COUNCIL BANS SUNDAY GOLF ON MUNY COURSE

NATION THAT STAYS OUT OF WARS WINS 'EM, SAYS ROGERS

(Special to The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 12.—Mr. Ramsay MacDonald

says England got the worst of it in the last war. "I say, Ramsay, if any man could figure out who got the worst of it out of the last war he would go down in history with Confucius and Calvin Coolidge. That's one good thing about wars, it takes smarter men to figure out who loses 'em than it does to start 'em. When China and Russia didn't start this late uprising that leads me to believe that China isn't as ignorant as they are and Russia as dumb as they are. They are the two most highly-civilized nations on the face of the globe; the more ignorant you are the quicker you fight. Yours, WILL.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Reports from Erie and Oil City today say that a slight earthquake was felt. Young Pa New observed early this morning but failed to notice any undue familiar shakings of the earth. Did you feel any?

As one rides along the highways on Sunday any more it is clearly forced to one's mind just where and how the highways are going to accommodate the automobile in the next ten or fifteen years. Good wide roads seem to be the only solution.

Vacation time will soon be over and then back to a steady grind for everyone until the buds start popping next spring. Vacations are nice but they don't last long enough.

While the convention will not be as large as some that have been held and will be held here nevertheless Pa New wants the True Ivories delegates to know that they are welcome here.

Having your engine just drop plunk out of your machine must be a pleasant sensation. A truck on West Washington street did that little thing Sunday afternoon much to the discomfort of the driver.

Saturday and Sunday produced the usual heavy traffic and the bulk of it seemed to be heading for Butler. The Butler road looked like a boulevard Saturday night and Sunday afternoon with a surprisingly low number of crashes reported.

A crash on the Youngstown road wiped a machine clean to one side. The running board was sheared off, likewise the fenders.

Weather over the week end was back to normal, the official readings at the weather bureau at the New Castle Water Co. pump station show Saturday's maximum temperature hit 91, while the minimum over the week end was 60.

Course Too New For Seven Day Play Says Burns

Tyler Believes That Council Should Follow The Suggestions Of Golf Committee

SALARY OF MANAGER CREATES ARGUMENT

Three Applicants For Position, One Of Whom Resides Outside City Limits

Council met formally at the City building today and by a vote of four to one banned Sunday golf during 1929 at the municipal course. Councilman Burns introduced the ban which was seconded by Davies and which met with the concurring votes of Reeves and Mayor Gillespie. Councilman Tyler voted against the motion.

Course Is New Burns, introducing the motion which banned golf for the balance of 1929, offered as an explanation that the course is new, therefore not exactly in the condition it should be. He voiced the belief that by banning Sunday play it would save considerable "wear and tear."

"I'll second the motion," said Davies. "If the course is in an incomplete condition I believe it would be wise to carry over golf until next year," remarked Reeves.

"That would be best, but there are some people who have already paid dues. I am in favor of opening it," said Mayor Gillespie.

"It would be a better move for the city not to open it," stated Reeves. "It is as good now as was the Field Club course when it was opened," replied Mayor Gillespie.

"We might get enough money to help to bear part of the expense," said Reeves.

Tyler Says Open It "We have entrusted the golf course to a committee. We have went along with them. If their judgment has been all right on other things, it is all right to open the course," said Tyler.

"Sunday is the best day for play," Mayor Gillespie declared.

Public Service Commission Upholds Complaints Of Citizens

MUST IMPROVE PHONE SERVICE

NEW WILMINGTON, Aug. 12.—Double action on the part of the public service commission of the state upheld as just, the complaints of the borough and individual citizens of New Wilmington against the New Wilmington Telephone Co.

According to the report of the commission, the local company must file within 30 days a new and lower rate tariff and must also comply with and reform conditions which occasioned many complaints on service and equipment.

Service Inadequate. The commission found that the service of the company was inadequate and in connection with this finding ordered the local company to repair, replace or add to much of their present equipment. Among the requirements laid down in the order of the commission to the respondent are the following: The telephone company must secure a franchise from the borough allowing it to operate on the borough streets; a general and complete reconstruction of office equipment, station equipment and outside plant must be made; "a suitable employee to handle office matters and matter of public contact" must be secured; "an office system suitable to the size of the company" must be installed.

Complaints against specific faults in equipment were also sustained by the commission. This action on the part of the commonwealth public service commission is final with respect to the fight of the college town residents for better telephone service.

Conjecture as to the ability of the local company to comply with the orders of the commission has been offered but nothing definite has been released from the office of the company concerned.

Unidentified Man Is Found Dead On Railroad Tracks

(International News Service) SHARON, Pa., Aug. 12.—The body of a man about forty years old, found beside the Erie railroad tracks, lay in the morgue here today while police attempted to establish his identity. He was found by the crew of a passing freight train.

The man apparently had been struck by a train, officials said. The name James Birnyresky in a billfold in the man's clothing, and the name of a clothier, John George, of Carnegie, Pa., was on the label in his suit. A watch was also found in his clothes.

A tattoo mark "Chris" was on the man's arm, police said. With these clues it was hoped his identity might be established.

Edmunds Will Fight Closing Order Of City

Local Pool Room Proprietor Secures Preliminary Injunction Against Closing

SAYS MAYOR ACTED WITHOUT AUTHORITY

Thomas Edmunds, local pool room proprietor, whose place of business at 9 1/2 East Washington street, was ordered closed by Mayor W. H. Gillespie on Friday night, has taken the matter to court, a preliminary injunction restraining the mayor from closing the place having been secured this morning. A hearing will be held in the matter Thursday morning, August 15, at 9 o'clock.

Edmunds' place of business, along with that of Sebastian Pascarella of 838 South Mill street, was ordered closed by the mayor on Friday night. May Gillespie alleging that the two places were operating as gambling houses and not as pool rooms, for which purpose they had been licensed.

The mayor contended that he has authority to close the pool rooms in accordance with the provisions of the state law, which allows him to take such action, when they are not conducted for the purpose for which they are licensed.

In the bill of complaint filed this morning, Mr. Edmunds through his attorney, Clyde Gibson, contends that such action by the mayor is malicious, illegal and without authority under the laws of Pennsylvania or of the ordinances of the City of New Castle. It is further stated that there is no authority under the laws of Pennsylvania, whereby the mayor or any other officers of the city can revoke, annul, or suspend, such license without a hearing, and that no such hearing has been held.

The orator, Mr. Edmunds, states that he has $8,000 invested in the business and that he has no other means of livelihood, and that the drastic action of the mayor would cause him irreparable loss and damage.

He asks a special preliminary injunction, restraining Mayor W. H. Gillespie from interfering in the said business or from annoying or threatening him in the conduct of the said business, and that the injunction be made perpetual on final hearing.

Solicitor Robert M. White today advised city council, which convened in city council of an injunction suit brought by Thomas Edmunds in which he asks that city police be restrained from interfering with the operation of his billiard and pool hall. His license, according to White's address to council was revoked by Mayor William Gillespie.

Ordered the city solicitor to file an answer to the suit. The motion was made by Burns and seconded by Reeves.

It was said that a raid was staged there for alleged gambling. "Wasn't there sufficient evidence to take him to court?" Burns asked the mayor.

"Our principal witnesses are on a vacation," the mayor replied.

Believe Dirigible Will Make The 6600 Mile Flight To Japan In 120 Hours

By WALTER DIETZEL International News Service Staff Correspondent. German airman, August 12.—The next thirty-six hours may see the Graf Zeppelin again in the air.

This time, she will be soaring over eastern Europe and Siberia from here to Tokyo on the second leg of her round-the-world flight.

The Graf's schedule does not call for her to start the second leg before midnight, Wednesday, but it is now regarded as quite likely that Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the huge craft, may head the nose of his ship eastward some time tomorrow night.

The "Queen of the Air" arrived here in remarkable condition after her record flight from Lakehurst, N. J. Close inspection revealed that no repairs of any kind were absolutely necessary either to her motors, framework or gondolas.

Crew At Work Nevertheless, an enthusiastic crew was hard at work today making such adjustments as Dr. Eckener felt were necessary as an added safeguard to the success of the world flight. The flight to Tokyo is regarded as the most dangerous portion of the world flight and no stone is being left unturned to put the airship in the most perfect condition.

Washington Seismographer Says Earthquake Was Of Sharp Intensity But No Damage

Window panes rattled and homes trembled in this city this morning at 7:45 Daylight Savings time when the district was slightly rocked by a very slight earthquake shock. The quake was apparently the same as occurred at Erie, Oil City, Syracuse, N. Y., and other northern points at the identical time according to special messages to The News.

Mrs. Ira Landis of Blaine street, and Mrs. Lafayette Burleson, also of Blaine street, reported a violent trembling of their homes for possibly four or five seconds shortly after seven o'clock this morning and other residents in the vicinity noticed slight tremors.

Explosion Feared The majority of persons feeling the slight trembling of their homes believed that there had been an explosion in the district but as no report could be heard, investigation was made in the matter.

Evidence New Castle received the "tail end" of the quake. At 8:15 o'clock this morning, Eastern Standard time, exactly the same minute that the quake was felt here, a quake of some 30 seconds in duration and of considerable intensity was felt.

At Oil City, hundreds of families were awakened, dishes were rattled in homes, and there was considerable earth tremor noticed for about five seconds. This was also noted at 8:15 o'clock, Eastern Standard time, exactly the hour when the tremors were felt here.

Syracuse Reports At Syracuse, N. Y., at practically the same time, the region was rocked by a slight quake.

In all of these cities, little or no damage was reported by the quake, as was the case in New Castle.

In a check up made by The News this afternoon it was found that the seismograph at Georgetown university in Washington, D. C., registered slight earthquake shocks this morning shortly after six o'clock. Father (Continued On Page Five) want to use the golf course on Sunday, and in view of other courses being open we should either close it altogether or let it run. If there is to be wear and tear, why not close the course during the week for a day or so? If we did this we would not be discriminating," warned Tyler.

"What's the idea of the motion?" asked Reeves.

"To save the field," replied Councilman Davies.

"All right," might as well cut it out," replied Reeves.

Mayor Gillespie called for a vote. Burns, Davies, Reeves and Mayor Gillespie voted for Burns' motion, banning Sunday golf for 1929. Tyler opposed the motion.

The question of having the tenant move from the course was brought up.

It was explained that Solicitor White would handle this question. The business manager is to occupy the house.

The question of recommendations, such as appointments next came before the body.

Recommendations called for the appointment of a business manager, field man, cashiers and an extra girl, when needed.

Councilman fumbled around with the salary question, asked the business manager.

Argue Over Salary
The golf committee recommended $75 or $100 a month, house rent and the concessions.

Councilman Burns offered a motion that the salary be made $100 a month.

Tyler seconded the motion.

Councilman Reeves offered an amendment, making the monthly salary $75.00 a month.

Councilman Davies offered the second.

Councilman Tyler remarked: "We are cutting off Sunday. Will this $75 a month salary warrant a man taking interest in it?"

Tyler remarked also that it would be on this day that a man would derive benefits from concessions.

"We should do something in view of the early opening of the course, and do it speedily," Tyler declared emphatically.

Councilman White told the councilmen: "It is easy to raise a salary if we get the right man. It is difficult to decrease it."

The names of applicants for positions were read, but the council passed the "book" back to the recreation board.

The applicants were: business manager, Walter (Hub) Hart, 219 East street, and O. G. West, 1003 Lorrain avenue; field man, W. E. Hoover, box 50, R. D. 2, New Castle.

Outside of City
When the name of Mr. Hoover was read the question, "Does he live outside the city?" was asked by Councilman Reeves.

The city clerk, Mrs. Cordelia Jones, Zeigler, answered "Yes."

At this point Councilman Burns referred the applications to the recreational board for recommendations, adding: "We can fix the salaries."

The motion was carried.

Last week the golf committee suggested that the golf players should "pay for permits on Saturday and play golf on Sunday."

Under this plan only persons holding subscriptions or taking out advance permits would be able to use the course.

Councilman Tyler consistently has declared the large bulk of the people who will pay for the course cannot find any other day but Sunday to play. He has not edged from this position.

Under Burns' motion today "Sunday golf is banned only during the present year." The explanation for this is that so much playing on the new turf would injure the course. To this Tyler has taken the stand that the course should be left idle during the week-end one day and Sunday golf permitted.

PARENTS LEAVE BABY ALONE IN EARLY HOURS

America Likely To Take Hand In Hague Conference

American "Hands-Off" Policy May Be Abandoned In Face Of New Crisis

DAWES MAY GET PARLEY ORDERS

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—While deeply disappointed over the apparent break-up of the allied reparations conference at The Hague, there was little indication here today that the American government would abandon its carefully preserved policy of "hands off" in the crisis brought about by Franco-British differences.

Suggestions from abroad that Ambassador Charles G. Dawes might be ordered from his post at London to act in a mediatory capacity were somewhat coldly received at the state department.

In the absence of Secretary of State Stimson no responsible official would say definitely whether this government would or would not permit General Dawes to serve in such a capacity, but it was stated semi-officially that "it is extremely unlikely that General Dawes will go to The Hague."

"It doesn't look as though there would be any conference tomorrow for Dawes to attend," parried one official, in answer to inquiry.

Mrs. Housewife—What makes you so late with the milk these mornings?

Dip the feet of animal crackers into stiff cake frosting and stand them on place cards or cookies for favors for the children's party.

STAR LORE

THE ZODIACAL LIGHT

By Arthur Dev. Carpenter.

After sunset and the vanishing of the last traces of twilight, another glow in the west in the trail of the sun presents itself. It is one view this glow from within the tropics and in a distinctly clear atmosphere, he will see it extending entirely around the ecliptic. In the morning, before dawn, the same glow appears in the east. It is produced by sunshine reflected from infinite millions of tiny moonlets. Every one of these tiny worlds is moving rapidly in its own orbit around the sun. Since the glow appears along the belt of the Zodiac, it is called the Zodiacal Light.

NIGHTCLOTHES PARADERS

A FEW days ago the nation was taken completely by surprise when discontented men in several cities went Malay and rushed about the streets in pajamas. But with the dawn of a new day came an analytical frame of mind and an explanation. The why and wherefore were scrutinized.

Men are not compelled to wear heavy, winter trousers in hot weather, a condition one might presume exists from the spectacle of conservative bald heads parading the streets in pink sleeping garments. They do so of their own volition. If they are martyrs they are self-made martyrs, and one finds it difficult to sympathize with them or shed tears in the manner of a hired mourner.

There are plenty of tropical suits for men that can be weighed in a jeweler's scale. And their cost is certainly not prohibitive.

Apparently these dormitory exhibitions were but feeble imitations of the feminine trend, which is in the general direction of fewer and thinner clothes, lightweight overalls for bench wear and pajamas that can be decorative as well as useful about the house. The men in revolt were merely showing the ladies that masculinity can also wear nightclothes in broad daylight and on the broad highway with impunity.

PERJURY

MEMBERS of the American bench and bar are agreed that there has been a decided increase in perjury in recent years. They acknowledge that little progress has been made toward rectifying the existing situation.

Classed as a felony, perjury is, nevertheless, one of the hardest of all offenses to detect to the point of obtaining convictions. Judges and prosecuting officials may feel convinced that false testimony is being given, but proving such a thing to be the case is never easy.

The difficulty of inflicting punishment for perjury has, no doubt, had much to do with its spread. Criminal agencies have made increasing use of false testimony both for profit and protection. It has been established that in certain types of damage suits perjured testimony may be hired with comparative ease and little expense.

The hope of some of those who are alarmed over the spread of perjury is that aroused public consciousness will help put an end to the practice. It is a job of housecleaning in which the public can be of but slight assistance. The burden of reformation must be shouldered by the bench and bar. But juries can help by scrutinizing testimony more carefully and returning verdicts accordingly.

TREES THAT GROW

REPUTATION in fact and figures has been given restless-minded persons who take no interest in reforestation on the ground that trees grow too slowly. They think it is unreasonable to expect people to plant today what no one can reap for half a century.

Reports from individuals who put out forest seedlings furnished by state governments show that in even a few years certain species become sizable trees. There are trees which, in favorable climates, will grow two feet a year. Some with grow as much as three feet in 12 months.

Seedling or transplanted trees only a few inches high usually grow slowly during the first year. But once they "take root" they shoot up rapidly. Much depends on the care given them when planted, and on the nature of the soil and drainage. A forest once well started shows marked growth within a few years.

But there are other satisfactions from reforestation besides seeing the seedling arrive at its full stature and enjoying its cool shade. Immature trees improve the landscape and soil, purify the air and surface water sources, and give the planter the feeling of leaving an heritage to posterity.

By Central Press.
 NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Walk down William street to Maiden Lane, along Maiden Lane to Pearl street and you come to the wholesale coffee and spice district hemmed by warehouses and the pleasant rows of far-off places. And dead center in that line of industry there's a shabby, red-brick warehouse with a sign above the door, "The Three Friends."

"It's a luncheon rendezvous for young men and women who labor in the immediate neighborhood. The lunch hour in the district is worked on the stagger plan and from 11:50 to 1:30 there are at least 150 office workers eating and drinking in the district. The place is equipped with a jazz orchestra. The clientele are young—not one is over 23, and all of them having the time of their lives."

LUCKY STENOGRAPHER
 More about "The Three Friends": A young chap, about 20, sat at a table. He was a clerk but a clerk who was studying to be a dancer and hoped "some day" to get on the stage. "And you see that girl?" he indicated a flaming-haired, cheap edition of Gilda Gray, executing a solo in a far corner.

"She was on the stage but didn't make good. Stenographing now to get by. She's in here every noon, practicing till she gets hot enough and then she goes back."

Victor Berger, a Good Man.

Dining in the Clouds.

A 33,000-Mile Spot.

Millions, and in Jail.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
 (Copyright, 1929, King Features Synd., Inc.)

SAN SIMON, Cal., Aug. 12.—Victor L. Berger, late editor of the Milwaukee Leader, was buried Saturday. His death is a loss to his city, his state and to Congress, which heard unpleasant truths from him, and listened, because it respected his sincerity.

Victor Berger was able, honest, a good American. His fellow citizens of Milwaukee, the ablest, including those that disagreed with his political theories, will indorse that statement.

A man of great ability, he could easily have accumulated wealth. He preferred to devote his life to the welfare of other men.

Flying around the world should be popular, in prohibition America, when flying safely becomes firmly established.

Passengers, gathering for their first dinner, found waiting in the clouds, over the ocean, caviar, green turtle soup, squab, strawberries and cream.

Lazarus, traveling upward in Abraham's bosom, enjoying the sight of Dives, burning in hell, had no such luxury as that.

"And," said Wiegand, "there was exquisite wine from the Gra's cellar."

The Wilson Observatory has photographs of recent happenings on our sun that interest you.

Our real life, future and safety are there, more than 50,000,000 miles away.

If the sun's temperature dropped below thirty million degrees, centigrade, life on this earth would be impossible. You would freeze.

One photograph shows a burst of gaseous flame, hundreds of thousands of miles in length. In that flame, our earth would look smaller than a baseball in a big furnace.

The observatory is studying it with particular care one sun spot 33,000 miles wide. That is only a bubble on the sun's surface, equivalent in size to a small freckle on a girl's nose.

You may safely examine that spot through a piece of colored glass or an over-exposed photographic negative.

Science will be much obliged if you will tell what supplies the sun's terrific energy.

It is not "combustion," no mere "burning up of fuel," as men once thought. The sun, billions of years old, and 1,000,000 times bigger than our earth, would have been burned up long ago.

"The stripping of the atoms," which means tearing the electrons away from their nuclei, creates the energy, according to recent scientific teaching.

Stripped of their electrons, the atomic nuclei are packed close together, possessing a scientific gravity beyond comprehension. Solemnly science tells you that there exists in space matter so densely packed that one cubic inch of it would weigh a ton.

The Frenchman of Voltaire's Day, asked to prove his statement that the earth goes around the sun, admitted that he could not prove it, and added: "Mais je vous en donne ma parole d'honneur." "But I give you my word of honor."

"That 'proof' must suffice, in many modern instances.

A young American, who got millions from his father, has spent his first week in a British prison, and does not like it.

The convicted of killing a man with his automobile, while intoxicated. He told the court he had five or six drinks, but was sober. British justice gave alcohol the benefit of the doubt.

The young millionaire complains that the price of food is too good, and objects to a rule that puts him out of bed at 6 a. m. Possibly if his father had made such a rule, years ago, the young man might not have gone to jail.

Young gentlemen of the same type, going abroad, should remember that British justice pays little attention to millions and none at all when an American is concerned.

The young American's lawyer revealed an interesting "hanky across the sea" truth, when he urged the jury not to convict the young man "because he was an American."

Brokers' loans passed six billions and the Federal Reserve raised its discount rate to 6 per cent.

If brokers' loans should pass eight billions, would the Federal Reserve make the rate 8 per cent?

It probably would, except that some state laws against usury could interfere. And there must be some limit on the Federal Reserve that would object to putting that institution on an absolutely pawnshop basis.

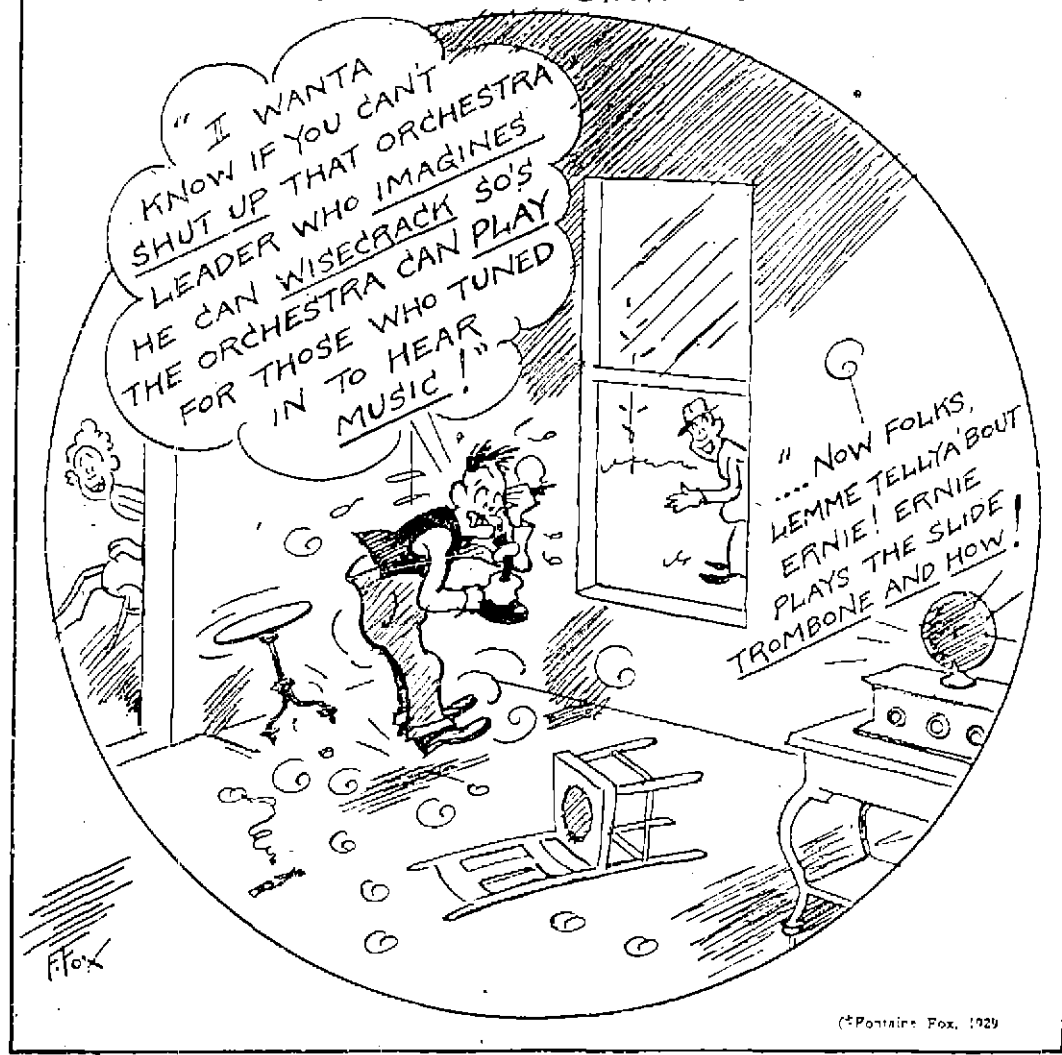

"Lead on, O King Eternal, Till sin's force war shall cease," Americans should respect laws. They respect everything else that is enormous in quantity.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:02. Sun rises tomorrow 5:09.

Don't be dissatisfied with the porch swing. Girls who ride in one are never rushed to the hospital.

Traditions are not often violated. The reason is because there are not statutory laws.

THE ONLY CURE
 If you don't feel just right.
 If you can't sleep at night.
 If you moan and you sigh.
 If your throat feels dry.
 If you don't care to smoke.
 If your food makes you choke.
 If your heart doesn't beat.
 If you're getting cold feet.
 If your head's in a whirl—
 Why not marry the girl?

If we were keeping a jail house these days we would be watching and listening all the time. About all the laws we have been having lately have been in jail. That's bad, but it will be worse when those not in jail get started to roving.

Having the self-assumed political boss against a candidate for office may not be just desirable from a democratic standpoint, but it is a lot of satisfaction to have such crooks against one even if defeat does be the result. Americans are against anything un-American.

Small Nephew: "That time you gave me slipped through a hole in my pocket."
 Uncle: "Well, here's another."
 "Wouldn't a quarter be safer, uncle?"

France will pay if Germany does. Try saying to your banker: "I owe you obligation, pay that note unless the fellows who owe me pay up."

A few days ago we stopped at an antique shop along an Ohio road. We asked the old lady in charge if she had any old-fashioned candle moulds. She said she had one she bought about ten years ago for a quarter and she would sell it to us for 50 cents. We told her we would take it and after we had it we asked her how much she thought it would take to get the moulds back. When we told her it would take $20 she came as near fainting as ever she did or will. She evidently still thinks we thought we had a bargain.

She: "There's Gladys. I understand she bought that dress by instalments."
 He: "I suppose that's the first instalment she's wearing."

You can rent an airplane in various parts of this country and fly it yourself. Of course there are a few other things you will have to do first, assure the owner that you can fly, and arrange other financial details.

One woman, an inveterate bridge fiend, dreams about the game and permits it to occupy most of her waking hours. Recently at dinner, when the bread was proffered to her by the maid she eyed it appraisingly for a moment and then said "I pass."

WHY SAVE MONEY IF YOU LOSE SOMETHING WORTH MORE?
 "There is no profit in being a tightwad—unless you are one of those morbid, unnatural creatures to whom the mere possession of money affords delight. Normal people desire money for the things it will buy, and even perhaps, for the prestige it gives, but their chief desire in life is to find happiness, and they can't be happy without the good will and respect of their fellows. If money will further this desire, it is worth while; but when money must be won or kept by sacrificing the respect of one's fellows, it costs much more than it is worth and defeats its own object. All of which is introductory to a criticism of tightwads."

There are several in this region—most of them bachelors. They are incapable of an unselfish thought. Go ly unfriendly to him personally but also razz his newspaper. Also during those years the publisher often had those same birds come to him and ask the most unreasonable favors. Sometimes it's to keep it out of the paper about some of their relatives being in jail, or perhaps themselves being in or being afraid they would be in. It's often hard to give that kind of cattle a respectable hearing after having to stand for their nastiness, but they usually find out there are more decent folks in the world than they are.

SUBTRACTION
 Teacher: "Take four out of five and what do you have, Tommy?"
 Tommy: "Pyorrhea, Ma'am."

Why would anyone want to file the lock off of a cemetery gate at night?

The hardest thing on auto tires is to have your girl live in the next town.

Public opinion always respects the man with courage enough to defy it.

Excused Young Wife looking at monster fish: "Goodness! Someone must have caught that fish that got away from George last Saturday."

A man said: "Why don't people introduce themselves adequately instead of saying 'I'm Jones,' or 'Hello, I guess you don't remember me,' and then waiting to see what happens? I am embarrassed at least six times a day by visitors who presume that I have an unfailing memory for names and faces. I dislike to acknowledge that I do not remember a person whom, perhaps, I should remember. Consequently the interview is painful while I am mentally fumbling for a clue to recognition. Where there is the slightest doubt of identification my idea of a proper announcement is this: 'I am John Jones. You may recall that I met you last summer at a luncheon at the hotel. I am in the real estate business and I have called to make an offer on your corner lot.'"

There are people who get along better without any and often with very little money than some do with a household of coin. The happiest hours some person ever had when hungry and trying to find something to chew on.

The tea room is the best place to learn the latest perfume odors.

Of course the following advertisement in the classified columns of a paper was written and inserted by a grief-stricken husband: "Mildred: Come home. The dress you desired is waiting for you."

THE OUTCAST
 Because I'd turned them out on my own. A creature who to courage and scorn "Repent ere it's too late," they cried in photographic tones of pride. But this is what they didn't know, I had repented long ago!

I knew my sin as well as they. I'd grieved about it night and day. With tears I'd tried to wash it out. But, oh, they found it with a shout! And drove me off, and as I went I hear them thundering: "Repent!"

Had hatred not have scourged me then? I never should have sinned again. They might have saved me had they tried. And dealt with love instead of pride. But they could only see my sin. And the pain I bore within.

I had repented but they jeered! I had repented but they sneered. In rage they drove me from the place. And bade me seek for saving grace. "Go seek God's love," they cried again. But 'twas their love I needed then. (Copyright 1929, Edgar A. Guest.)

Tragedy In Desert Reminder Of Almost Forgotten Dangers

Death Of Family Stranded While Motoring Across California Emphasizes Limitations Of Civilization's Safeguards

A tragic reminder that spots still help under the burning sun, the States untouched by the safeguards of civilization is found by the press in the story of an entire family perishing from thirst when its automobile broke down in the California desert.

"The wiping out of this family is a warning not to be misunderstood," advises the BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE. "Whoever imagines that the automobile has terminated American desert peril is gravely mistaken. Far south of 'Death Valley' is the little-known road between El Centro in Imperial county and Blythe in Riverside county. A spur of the San Bernardino mountains has to be crossed. Travelers are warned against taking this road. There is no water on most of the route. And, of course, there is no game and no source of other food. This tourist in imagination or traveler must depend on his own resources. He is better off, so far as thirst goes, than the ox-team pioneers, for there is water in the radiator. He is worse off as regards food, for, unlike the oxen, the automobile cannot be eaten in any emergency. A complete breakdown of a motor car at any point in the Palo Verde section of Riverside county may mean death for all the persons it is carrying."

"Many so-called roads of that sort," comments the SAN ANTONIO EVENING NEWS, "are unmarked from end to end. Signs cost comparatively little, and in regions where rainfall is light they last for years, if well made. This tragedy should arouse authorities in thinly settled districts to provide better guides for travelers than ordinarily are found. The seven persons who perished so miserably were not far from the Colorado of the West—a stream always flowing, although it traverses a particularly barren region between the Blythe area and Yuma, Arizona. "The automobile clubs," says the SANTA BARBARA DAILY NEWS, "have issued recent warnings against desert travel in summer except along the beaten tracks. In any case, desert travelers will do well to carry with them ample water supplies for use in case of emergency. The modern automobile is as nearly trouble-proof as machinery can be, and with ordinary care and foresight it will go anywhere on the desert with reasonable safety. But those inexperienced in desert conditions and travel cannot afford to take chances even with these efficient machines. At the best they should provide all the possible safeguards against disaster. If they must go to the untraveled portions of the desert."

"In the days of ox and horse drawn wagons," the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN ZETTER recalls, "it was nothing unusual for individuals or families, or even for groups to perish in the deserts of our far West. Long journeys through waterless regions were filled with peril to the pioneers. To those of us who have thought that, with the advent of trains and of automobiles, the old days were forever past, the recent tragedy is a grim reminder that we are mistaken."

irrigation has worked wonders in the arid regions near the Pacific. The pounding and distribution of water have turned barren plains into fertile fields. Yet behind all this death still lurks, ready to pounce upon the unprepared as it did in the earlier days of the republic. We have progressed far, but much remains to be done. It gives a strange twist to the pride to read such a story as that which comes out of the California desert," remarks the MEMPHIS COMMERCIAL APPEAL. "Almost unbelievable is the story of a whole family perishing of heat and thirst in an American desert. With the Sahara yielding to the motor, it is strange indeed that the little stretch of desert land near the west coast of the United States should have proven a blistering graveyard to a motor party."

"What should have been a journey of about two hours or less is converted into an eternity, with evidence of almost infinite suffering and torture. Only a few miles away were snow-capped mountains with cooling streams and clear, pure, fresh air."

MARN NOT MODERN.

The Union of Socialist Soviet Republics is a sort of Socialistic League of Nations. It is purposely so formed that any other nation or people forming such a government, can immediately come into this Soviet Union. In addition to old Russia, White Russia, Ukraine, Trans-Caucasia, Uzbekistan and Turkmenia, the Soviet government hopes soon to win back three nations which were voluntarily granted self-determination at the time of the revolution—Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania. Outer Mongolia and Northern Manchuria also practically belong to the Soviet domain. And, the following is now being put forth to bring in Roumania, Arabia, Persia, Turkey and India.

The Bolsheviks have learned through grim experience that they cannot rigidly apply the doctrines of Karl Marx to this industrial age. For Karl Marx lived in a time when nearly all labor was performed by hand. The modern factory system had not yet evolved. Quantity production by power machinery was unknown. So when Karl Marx made his ringing proclamation, "Workers of the world, unite! You have nothing to lose but your chains, and you have a world to gain!" the workers he had in mind were just manual workers. In those days it was literally true, as it is not now, that no one was a worker unless he did the work with his bare hands. The following of Marx are still trying to apply that definition to the word "worker." But it doesn't fit this age at all. And the Bolsheviks soon found that it was not enough to place everything in the hands of manual laborers, unskilled and uneducated—paying all alike by labor checks—they simply couldn't produce. And so Lenin discovered the actual need for technical experts, scientists and engineers, announced his New Economic Policy. This historic announcement changed the whole basis from Communism to State Capitalism.

Stations May Fix Inspection Charge

Inspector Stations For Motor Cars Will Fix Own Charges

HARRISBURG, Aug. 12.—Whether a charge may be made for inspecting motor vehicles and their equipment during their compulsory inspection period recently announced by Gov. John S. Fisher is a matter for the individual inspection to decide according to the Commissioner of the Department of Motor Vehicles, E. J. Eynon. The provision in Motor Code authorizing these inspections, Eynon said, "contains nothing whatever concerning such a fee but rather is confined to the statement that upon proclamation by the Governor it shall be the duty of the department to compel every resident owner of a motor vehicle being operated in the commonwealth to submit the vehicle to such inspection of its mechanism and equipment as may be designated by the department."

"Therefore, we are not in a position definitely to recommend to official inspection stations that a fee should be charged although we are of the impression that the average motorists would not object to paying a reasonable fee in order to ascertain whether or not, in his car, is in safe condition. On the other hand, some portion of the motoring public may feel that the compulsory feature of the inspection is being used as a means to require them to pay this fee. Certainly no one expects to receive much for nothing these days and effective word is worth its price but because the law makes no mention of its particular feature we must of necessity leave the matter to the discretion of the Official Inspection Stations."

The period beginning October 1 and ending November 15 has been fixed as the time for inspection. Nearly 2,000,000 motor cars and trucks are to be examined in 40 working days or 50,000 per day.

TOKIO HOP MAY START AHEAD OF SCHEDULE TIME

measure. One motor which gave a little trouble on the journey from Lakehurst is being thoroughly overhauled and every detail of the Graf's machinery is being given a complete examination.

Such rapid progress has been made by the mechanics overhauling the airship that it is expected the Zeppelin will be fit to take to the air tonight.

Await Permission
Eckener is still awaiting permission from the Russian Soviet government to fly over Siberia. This is expected within the next twenty-four hours. Over Siberia, Dr. Eckener will take a northern or southern route, depending upon weather conditions.

An emergency landing gear is being put aboard the Zeppelin, it is reported today. This will be used in case the Graf should be forced to come down over the wilds of Siberia where landing crews would be unavailable. No such landing is anticipated but the emergency gear gives an added sense of security to those who will be aboard.

It is expected that twenty passengers, in addition to the crew of 41, will make the trip to Tokio. Lady Drummond Hay again will be the only woman aboard. Some of the passengers, now in Paris and Berlin, have been notified of the possibility that the Zeppelin may start ahead of schedule and are returning here.

Speculate On Time
There was much speculation today regarding the time it will take the Graf to complete her world flight. In view of her fast time on the first leg of her flight and the possibility of an early start on the second leg, it was believed probable that she would reduce the three weeks set as a maximum time for the world flight.

The distance from here to Tokio is about 6,600 miles. There are enormous expanses of wild territory between the few inhabited areas lying between. Adding to the difficulty of the undertaking is the fact that the only maps regarding air navigation over this territory are very inadequate.

Nevertheless, Dr. Eckener, expressed himself as certain that the Graf would arrive at Tokio within 120 hours of leaving here. To do so, his ship must average about 55 miles an hour. This should not be difficult, however, judging from the 80 mile an hour average the Graf maintained on the flight from Lakehurst.

Motor experts from the Maybach Company, makers of the Zeppelin's motors, were certain today after inspecting them that they could be relied upon to function for 1,000 hours without stopping.

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Aug. 12.—The Soviet government's permission for the Graf Zeppelin to fly over Russian soil on the continuation of its round the world flight was received from Moscow today.

The departure of the mighty air liner for Tokio, via the Soviet Union, is now set for 4 o'clock Wednesday morning, or 11 o'clock p. m. tomorrow, New York Daylight Saving Time.

As weather reports for the next 48 hours are extremely unfavorable, it was stated this afternoon that the departure of the ship may have to be postponed.

German prisoners who were former prisoners in Siberia will send a wreath upon the Graf to be dropped over Moscow together with a letter requesting that the wreath be deposited upon the graves of their comrades who died in Russian prison camps.

The overhauling of the Graf has been almost completed. The gondola has been fitted with another bottom buffer to aid in the case of an emergency landing.

Miss Clairenne Stinnes, daughter of the late Hugo Stinnes, German industrialist, started from Berlin, May 25, 1927, for a round-the-world, automobile tour. She arrived in this country in May of this year and continued her tour.

HOUSES TREMBLE AS CITY FEELS TAIL OF SHAKER

Torndorf, noted quake expert, is working out its intensity and location. It is believed that this is the same quake felt in New Castle and other northern points early today.

Throughout the forenoon numerous queries have been received by The News concerning the earth tremors which occurred this morning.

Practically all of the citizenry who noticed the slight trembling were of the opinion that an explosion had occurred somewhere in the district and further thought was not given to the matter as the day's activities began.

Thought First One
There is no record that New Castle and the county has ever before experienced a quake of any kind.

Within a few days, there will probably be a surmise as to the cause of the tremors made by experts. No reports of any damage has been made by any one in any of the regions where the quake was felt.

At noon today, Maurice Schoenberger of Leasue avenue reported that he felt slight tremblings of the earth about midnight. This was the only report made stating that the quake was felt earlier than this morning.

(International News Service)
An earthquake shock, lasting slightly more than three seconds at its peak and tapering off in lesser rumblings, shook the region around Lake Erie and extended southward into Western Pennsylvania and eastward through the state into Washington, D. C.

Canada, in the Toronto region, felt the quake, which apparently originated somewhere in the province of Ontario.

Steamers on the lake reported the disturbance and residents of various cities in western Pennsylvania were awakened.

According to the seismograph at Georgetown university, Washington, the tremors began at 6:25:55, eastern standard time, this morning, and reached their peak at 6:27:11.

Father Torndorf, noted quake expert, said after careful checking that the seat of the disturbance was approximately 25 miles north of Washington, D. C. He was inclined to believe it caused little damage.

Erie, Pa., felt the shock the most severely. Newspapers there were deluged by calls. The Erie Times reported that the shock lasted upward of 20 seconds. No damage was reported, there, however.

At Oil City, Pa., a number of persons were awakened and terrified by the quake.

Residents of New Castle, Pa., said their homes were rocked by the force of the quake.

At Franklin, Pa., it was said the quake appeared to follow the course of French creek and the Allegheny river.

Seek Information.
Frightened persons throughout the northern part of Pennsylvania, and especially the Lake Erie region, sought information by telephone from the newspaper. Many feared that an explosion had occurred.

It was the first time that a quake ever has shaken many of the points which felt today's tremor. Persons at Erie who had been in the Pacific coast earthquake spread fear among the startled people who crowded into the streets when they said the sensation was the same as that which preceded some of the disastrous shakes.

Although no damage was done, fear still was expressed by persons in various cities in the Lake Erie region that the quake was the forerunner of a more serious disturbance.

Officials of observatories were unable to place the exact seat of the quake, or to assign a reason.

Seismograph Registers.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The earthquake shocks registered on the seismograph at Georgetown university began at 6 hours, 25 minutes, 55 seconds after midnight, eastern standard time, and the maximum was reached at 6:27:11. Father Torndorf, noted quake expert, said today following a careful checking of the registration.

He said apparently the shock was about 245 miles from Washington and in a northerly direction. He added that while the intensity of shock was sharp, he was inclined to believe it caused little damage.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The seismograph at Georgetown university registered slight earthquake shocks early today and Father Torndorf, noted quake expert is working out its intensity and location. It is believed to be the same one felt at Syracuse.

ERIE, Pa., Aug. 12.—An earthquake of about twenty seconds duration and considerable intensity was felt at 6:15 this morning in Erie and vicinity. No damage was reported.

OIL CITY, Pa., Aug. 12.—Hundreds of families were awakened and dishes in a number of homes were rattled by a slight earth tremor felt here at 6:15, eastern standard time, this morning. The tremor lasted about five seconds, it was estimated.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Earth tremors lasting from thirty to ninety seconds were felt in Albany between seven and seven thirty o'clock this morning.

Many persons reported that their beds were jarred by the earthquake which was much milder however than that of 1924.

Some sections of the city were not disturbed.

SAYRE, Pa., Aug. 13.—A distinct earthquake shock rocked Sayre and vicinity at 6:30 a. m. today. Houses rocked and dishes in many kitchens fell to the floor.

Newspaper offices were besieged with inquiries and many residents rushed to the streets in alarm.

ELMIRA, N. Y., and vicinity also reported the shock which was felt also at Towanda where U. S. Senator-Elect William S. Vare is residing.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Aug. 12.—This city was rocked by two earth tremors, several seconds apart, at 6:30 eastern standard time, today. Hundreds of persons were aroused from their sleep.

The quake seemed to be along the route of French Creek and the Allegheny river, according to reports.

Scores of calls came to local newspaper offices for an explanation. No damage was reported.

It was the first time a tremor has been felt here.

Cleveland, Aug. 12.—A sharp earthquake was recorded on the seismograph at the John Carroll university observatory here at 6:28:35 a. m. today.

The disturbance lasted 15 seconds and was felt within a radius of 500 miles from the Niagara Falls region, according to Father Frederick Odenbach, who is in charge of the observatory here.

The tremor, according to reports here, was distinctly felt at Erie, Pa., and throughout the whole Niagara district, including the Canadian border.

At Erie, Pa., the quake jarred houses and displaced furniture and dishes.

Batavia, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Severe earth tremors of a minute's duration were felt here at 6:30 a. m. today. A wall of a brick building was cracked and several chimneys were toppled over.

The shock was so severe that it rocked houses and people had difficulty standing up.

Lee Ford, aged 60, negro, was found dead on the floor of the bunkhouse of the P. & L. E. construction gang at Wampum Sunday morning by fellow workmen in the place.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell was called and on investigation found that Ford had been employed at the same place for about two years and that he had been drinking heavily during the past few days.

The coroner found that death was due to alcoholism with indications that some of the stuff used was poison. As Ford had no known relatives he was removed to the Marshall morgue at Wampum and burial was made this morning at the Lawrence county home on the Ellwood City road.

Evangelist Greeted By Capacity Crowd

A capacity crowd greeted Evangelist Thomas Carter last night at the Alliance Tabernacle, the church being too small to seat all the people.

The Evangelist gave a very touching and heart searching message from the subject, "Mother's Prayers Have Followed Me." The altar was almost filled, in response to the altar call.

Mr. Burrows of the Baptist church of Ellwood, rendered two selections, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jenkins sang, "I Love to Sing About Jesus."

There will be no meeting tonight, but Tuesday night the Evangelist will speak on "Shall a man crop which he sows?" He will also give the Bible answer to the question of "Who is the greatest detective in the world?"

Commerce Board To Investigate Railroad Rates

Practice Of Eastern Roads Charging Extra Fare On Special Trains To Be Aired

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The practice of eastern railroads in charging extra fares for the transportation of passengers on desirable trains is to be thoroughly aired by the interstate commerce commission, it was learned today.

The commission has ordered hearings to begin here on October 15 on the application of the eastern roads for relief from "the aggregate of intermediate fares" provision of the fourth section of the interstate commerce act.

This is said to be the first time that a fourth section application in respect to passenger fares, on account of conditions created by extra fares, has been brought by the railroads. Railroad revenues aggregating $9,000,000 a year, it has been estimated will be placed in jeopardy.

In other words, if relief is not accorded, and the railroads do not or cannot bring the combinations of local up to the level of the through fares now in excess of the local, that amount of money will have to be given up on account of the prohibition of the fourth section.

Many Railroads Named. Railroads named in the request for relief are the Baltimore & Ohio, Lackawanna, Erie, Lehigh Valley, New York Central, West Shore, Big Four, Pennsylvania, Grand Trunk, Michigan Central, Nickel Plate and Wabash. Their application is for authority to maintain extra fares on fast trains between points on lines of said roads in New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, St. Louis, Mo., and Windsor, Ont., without observing

Record Gladioli Sent News Office

What the thought to be the largest gladioli seen in this country in many years were sent to The News today by Robert A. Weingartner, proprietor of the Weingartner Gardens on Butler avenue.

Excuses in coloring and commanding appearance the gladioli occupies a place of honor on The News counters and is attracting the attention of every visitor.

The "gladioli" are known as "Miss. Leone Douglas", some of them being six inches in width in the spread of the petals. In height the spikes are all about four feet long.

The gladioli section of the Weingartner Gardens present a gorgeous appearance just now. Reds and yellows, orchids and pinks, thousands of them nod their pretty heads to passersby and a perceptible slowing up of traffic is noticed as cars slow down to admire the riot of color.

"Nation's Business" Tells Of Growth Of Prospect Store

How the general merchandise business of Thomas F. Critchlow of Prospect, Butler county, has grown to the place where the store and the man together are doing a business of nearly $500,000 a year, is told in the current number of Nation's Business, one of the country's foremost magazines for business men.

The article was written by William Boyd Craig, associate editor of that magazine. Through a bit of correspondence, Mr. Craig recognized an opportunity and came to Prospect from Washington, D. C. and met Mr. Critchlow.

With the story of the growth of the Critchlow store are photographs of the establishment, the proprietor and several of the store's interior. Interesting indeed is the article and business men will find in it a wealth of information concerning the present day country store.

Mr. Craig writes at the beginning that while a $500,000 business in a store of this kind, situated in a town where the population is almost 400 when all are at home, may not be a record, nevertheless it seems unusual enough to warrant some explanation.

Members of the Big Beaver Holstein calf club are meeting this evening at the farm of W. H. McCulloch at 6:30 o'clock eastern standard time.

H. R. McCulloch, county agent, will demonstrate and lead the discussion on "Fitting and Showing of Calves at Fairs."

THE QUEEN THANKS PETER
In spite of what Whiz and Dawdler had said, the Queen seemed far from being in an ill temper. She waved her wing to Peter as he approached and smiled upon them both so sweetly that he lost all his fear at once and became quite anxious to talk to her.

"Welcome, dear boy," she said. "We bees owe you a debt of gratitude that we can never repay. Accept the thanks of my people for all that you have done."

"Oh, that's all right, Your Honor," said Peter. "I mean, Your Majesty," stammered Peter, much embarrassed. "Please don't thank me; I didn't do much, but I am glad if I did help a little. I shall never forget how good you were to me, and how you believed that I was not a thief, after your honey."

"Of course, I didn't; not for a minute. And how do you like Dawdler?" "Oh, he's my best friend. He's been taking very good care of me, indeed."

"Well, as to that I'm not so sure. It seems to me that it is you who have been taking care of us. But Dawdler is a fine fellow after all, said and done! The only thing that can be said against him is that he is a bit fond of himself, but we really couldn't get along without him very well. Every day he has a way of doing something to make me glad he's my husband!"

Dawdler was so pleased to hear the Queen say such nice things about him that he had hard work to keep from smiling, but he did manage to say, with as much dignity as he could command.

"Thanks, my Queen. I shall try to deserve your kindness. But may I ask when we are to eat? The boy has had nothing at all since early morning."

"What a shame," said the Queen. "He must be starved, and here we are waiting precious time in talking. We are to eat immediately, and you, boy, are to sit at my right and Dawdler at my left. Give the signal that the meal is ready, trumpet!"

At the call to dinner, the bees who had been flying about in such swarms that Peter could see nothing but their moving bodies, suddenly became quiet, and in orderly manner took their places and made ready to eat.

As the bees stopped moving about, Peter noticed at one side of the hall a long table. Around it were little stools and both the table and stools were of wax.

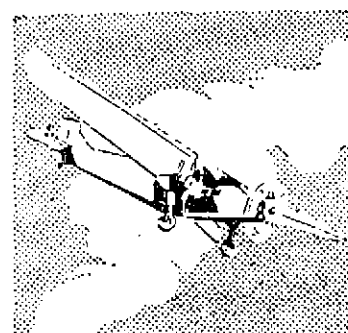

"I know now why they say 'the busy bees,'" said Peter to himself. "They can't have many idle moments if, besides gathering the food and storing it away, they have made all this furniture for their banquet hall."

Peter's reflections were interrupted, as they were apt to be. The little folks moved so quickly to give one chance for much thought. A waitress stood at Peter's side. And what she sat before him caused the boy more wonder.

Next: "Banquet of the Bees."

Road records—which some cars dare not tackle and which other cars have tried and failed—were captured readily by the amazing performance of Franklin air-cooling.

It gives a flashing pickup at 50—power to pass in a pinch—Up to 50 in second as quietly as in high. You can drive at top speed hour after hour without overheating or loss of power. Comfortably, safely, because Franklin flexibility smooths the road.

Mercer County Gets State Police Squad

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 12.—District Attorney Leo McKay has been advised by Captain J. C. Mauk of Butler headquarters that Mercer County will have a State Police Patrol Substation established during the month of September.

There is still some question as to the exact location of the station, but it is generally thought that Mercer is the logical place, being nearly in the center of the county as far as population is concerned, and there are highways leading in all directions from

Mercer giving easy access to any other town.

The troop headquarters will call for a building in which there will be at least room for three men to sleep, an accommodations, rest room, an office and adjoining garage for cars and motorcycles, and also a barn will be needed for at least one horse. It is expected that the troop will consist at first of three men and this number will be increased any time it is found necessary.

The round-leaved sundew, common in swamps, bogs and moist ground catches insects on its sticky leaves and eats them.

Aviator Meets Horrible Death At Pittsburgh

Chief Pilot Of Airways Com-

As Plane Crashes
In Fog

(International News Service.)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 12.—Crashing shortly after he had taken off in his plane in a heavy fog for Detroit, Harry Smith, 32, chief pilot of the Middle States Airways, was killed and his body burned today. The accident occurred a short distance from Bettis field on the Lebanon-Church road. The plane rose from the field after a long run and crashed into high tension wires of the Duquesne Light company, officials of Bettis field reported. The plane dove downward and flattened on the concrete road. The gasoline tank exploded and the twisted wreckage burst into flames. Wreckage of the Lockheed-Vega cabin type monoplane, which had been in passenger carrying service, was scattered 300 yards from the spot where it hit the road.

most of his flying near Los Angeles, it was reported. He came here four weeks ago from New York to make arrangements for improvements in service in the line.
Robert Parker, one of the officials of the Bettis airport, had warned Smith of the danger of taking off during a fog, he said, but the New York man was in a hurry to get to Detroit. The Bettis field officials rushed to the scene of the accident, a quarter mile from the hangars, but Smith's body had been burned in the wreckage before they could arrive. There was little left of the machine. It had hit with such force that the wings had been torn loose and pieces of the fuselage scattered. What was left was consumed by the flames.

Insurgent Revolt May Block Tariff Program In Senate

Administration Leaders Plainly Worried Over Rumblings In Insurgent Ranks

SENATOR BORAH ISSUES WARNING

Senatorial Approval Of Widespread Increases In Rates
Meets Opposition

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—With rumblings of an insurgent revolt threatening a Republican split, administration leaders today faced a tremendous task in winning senatorial approval for the widespread increases in industrial and agricultural rates in the new tariff bill.

The agricultural schedule, carrying sharp advances all along the line, will be endorsed in rapid order, since even the insurgents agree that congress must give the farmers greater tariff protection. The similar increases granted in the industrial schedules will run into stiff opposition and a Democratic-insurgent coalition may even rewrite most of them, even though Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee have spent weeks in carefully determining the new rates.

Borah Gives Warning
Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, warned of the impending Republican revulsion over the increases on industrial rates represented a "base betrayal" of the farmer by the Republican party. He argued that while the farmers were given a "nominal" increase in tariff protection, the far greater increase in protection given to industries would more than continue the old economic inequality between agriculture and industry.

Realize Big Task Administration leaders realize the task on their hands. They recall the Senate's action in defeating by a single vote Borah's proposal to limit all tariff revision to the agricultural schedule. This limited revision was beaten by a vote of only 38 to 39. A review of that vote reveals thirteen Republicans and 25 Democrats voting against all increases on industrial schedules.

If the coalition can command the same strength once the tariff bill reaches the Senate, the fate of the measure will be in doubt so far as industrial increases are concerned.
Totalling the senators voting for a limited reduction with those paired similarly, there would be 46 senators opposing industrial increases—just two short of a majority of the Senate.
At the same time, such independents
as Senator Couzens, Mich., Johnson, Cal., Jones, Wash., McNary, Ore., Republicans and Heflin, Ala., and Steck, Iowa, Democrats, voted for the general revision. Adding but two of these independents to the 46 recorded as opposed to industrial increases, would give the coalition the necessary majority.

Under the circumstances, administration leaders must win over converters from the group that opposed them last June or hold all their own stewards in line. Failure to do either will result in sharp reduction of industrial rates.

Take up Lists.
The Republican finance committee members meanwhile took up the sundries list. The hides and shoes items were in the list and the effort to place a duty on both threatened a private war in the committee room.
The "big war" will come tomorrow when the Republicans act upon the sugar schedule. With the sliding scale discarded, all were agreed upon adoption of a flat rate with a majority favoring a lower rate than that approved by the house.

There appeared a strong probability that a rate arding $2,000 per hundred pounds of Cuban imports would be adopted. This would represent something like the half-way mark between the $1.75 in existing law and the $2.40 rate approved by the house.

Heartbreak Is Echoed In Voice Of Italian Who Dreamed Of Fame

Editor's Note: This is another of a series of sketches of the most prominent local artists of the day. Others follow.

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY,
Central Press Staff Writer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—They call him "the man who might have been a second Caruso."

To a Neapolitan who loves music as he loves his life Giuseppe di Benedetto came very near making a "supreme sacrifice" when poison gas and shrapnel "Over There" killed the bird in his throat for seven months.

Giuseppe was a captain in the Italian army and it was at Col di laro that his world fell around him and he was sent to the hospital for months, a pitiful human wreck. The fates gave him back his voice. It is one of the best on the air. But, Giuseppe had prayed to walk in the footprints of his beloved fellow countryman Caruso.

In "Neapolitan Nights,"
When you hear him in "Neapolitan Nights" perhaps you catch the heartbreak a bit, and feel in the poignancy of his tones a little of what he has suffered. But if you could be in the studio with him and see his ruddy smiling face as he turns from the "mike" and comes back from his Naples to the everyday studio world you would find it hard to believe that he carries a cross.

"My Felix" now he is tight. Ah, he is the genius! You should hear him play now. Accompanies me like a grown man. Such sympathy, such technique. The twins my boy and my girl love music like real Neapolitans too. We are a happy family."

Sometimes the little di Benedettos get a fit of pride over their father being an American citizen and are so eager to emphasize it among the neighbor boys that the art of fastidious almost gets the upper hand.
Papa di Benedetto chuckles a little when he tells of this—and one can't help but believe he might even be able to sit in on a prize fight without having his artistic soul pained too much by the sight of manly combat.

And what a blow this must be to some of the artists who admire the

Chief Counsel For Snook Says "He'll Not Burn"

Betting Odds Shift In His Favor That He Will Not Pay Extreme Penalty

BELIEVES INSANITY PLEA WILL WIN JURY

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 12.—"Snook will never burn." In precisely those words this opinion was expressed today by E. O. Ricketts, chief counsel for Dr. James H. Snook, whose trial for the murder of pretty Theora Hix, young co-ed, entered its final phases today. Ricketts made this prediction in commenting on the betting about town on the probable verdict of the jury.

Betting odds on whether Snook can "beat the chair" have shifted somewhat in his favor in the last few days.
A week ago everybody seemed to think the former college professor was headed straight for the electric chair.
Public sentiment was almost unanimous against him. But since Snook took the stand in his own defense there are many persons willing to wager that he at least succeeds in saving his skin.

That is about all Snook himself hopes for. Any verdict but the one that will give him the death penalty will suit him. Just so they don't "burn" him.

"I am convinced Dr. Snook will never go to the electric chair," said Ricketts. "Even if he were found guilty of murder in the first degree without any recommendation of mercy there are enough reversible errors in the case to save him from such a fate."

"I look for a disagreement, or a verdict of manslaughter. I am perfectly satisfied with our case as it stands
now. We have contended that Snook was insane when the crime was committed, and I am sure that the jury has long since arrived at this conclusion."

The trial is drawing slowly to a close and there is a possibility that the case will go to the jury by mid-week. This is contingent upon how thoroughly the "insanity" issue is gone into. The defense has indicated that its final witnesses will be alienists who are expected to testify that Snook was in an unbalanced mental condition on the night of June 13 when he hammered and slashed Miss Hix to death.

Flourishing Garden Supplies Crops At County Poor Home

What might be referred to as one of the most attractive spots in Lawrence county is the garden and orchard, which Superintendent Perry M. Snyder has established at the county poor home on the New Castle-Ellwood City road. P. O. Elder, county commissioner and president of the county poor board, and M. B. Hoger, director of poor relief, declare that with the aid of inmates at the institution, Snyder has cultivated one of the nicest gardens in this vicinity.
A flourishing orchard is sprouting at the present time and indications point to a real fruit crop later.
Enough vegetables and other garden crops are raised to meet the needs of the home, the poor directors state.
Only a few potatoes are purchased from outside growers. Raspberries, strawberries, grapes and other things are included in the list of things which the home gardeners grow.

GETTING READY TO Grade East Division
Council today instructed the city clerk to ask for bids for the grading of East Division street between Cunningham avenue and DuShane street. The work must be completed before September if the city wants the school board to pay a share of the expense which the school board offered to do a year ago.

MAN INJURED IN FALL ON SIDEWALK
The police were advised Saturday evening by James M. Smith that a man had fallen near the hallway of the Clendenen block on Washington street and been injured.
Officer Lerera answered and found that Mike McCardwell, 235 Shadyside had fallen and sustained a severe cut on the head. He was taken to the police station and a physician called who dressed his wound.
The report of the accident states that Mr. McCardwell had not been drinking and that the occurrence was purely accidental.

Bad Political Judgment Used In Advising Hoover To Delay Cruiser Plan, Stewart Finds

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, August 12.—Who told President Hoover that he had a right to delay a start on three out of the five new cruisers which congress ordered began this fiscal year?

One version is that Secretary of State Stimson told him so.

As the president's adviser on international affairs, maybe Secretary Stimson did have something to say on the subject; America's naval policy decidedly is a matter of world interest.

Still, the secretary of state is not supposed to be any special expert on questions of the presidential authority versus congress.

The problem seems more in Attorney General Mitchell's line.

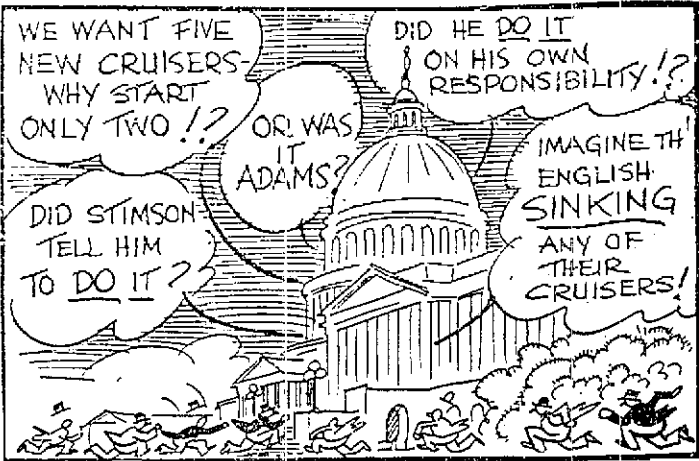

Every day it becomes more apparent that the president's action is sure to get him into a nasty fight with a large element on Capitol Hill as soon as the legislators reconvene—a rumormongers, unfortunately for him, which promises to split his own party badly. To be sure, Mr. Hoover ran count on the pretty solid support of the progressive, not only the Republican progressives, but also the Democrats who usually flock with them.

However, the opposition to his course is piling up furmably.

How the party leaders feel about it may be judged from the fact that Senator Frederick Hale of Maine, Republican chairman of the senate's navy committee, and Claude A. Swanson of Virginia, its senior Democratic member, agree in denouncing presidential interference with congress cruiser plan as out-and-out illegal.

On a naval issue, Hale and Swanson make a mighty strong pair to draw to representing both big political groups.

In the house of representatives Mr. Hoover is not likely to be any better satisfied with Naval Chairman Fred

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW!

A British suggestion that with the attitude taken by Senators Hale and Swanson—Britain being on record as opposed to any more American navy concessions until England scraps some of her own men-o-war.

Imagine the English sinking any of their cruisers?

Of course, if the president stands pat, there is nothing congress can do about it—except impeach him—which it is hardly necessary to say will not happen.

Indeed, the chances are that congress will endorse his position.

Whether or not he has acted legally congress can make it so, by voting that he did.

A good many Republican regulars are certain to stand by him. With the help of the progressives and a few Democrats, the probabilities are that they will muster a majority.

All the same, a loud howl that Mr. Hoover has exceeded his constitutional authority will not do him any good politically.

He already has a reputation for being temperamental dictatorial.

People are liable to get to believing it, if the charge is made against him by a large number of his own partisans in congress. It will be still worse if even the senate alone—where it is likelier to occur than in the house of representatives—should vote that he has over-strained his rightful powers.

On the other hand, to yield would be an admission of it.

Who advised the president to do as he did is not congress' business. The president took the responsibility for doing it.

Nevertheless, there is a great deal of curiosity on the subject. Correct or not, from a legal standpoint, there are few dissenters from the opinion that it was shockingly bad political advice.

Some folks think Secretary of the Navy Adams did it. He has a very poor opinion of congress anyway—having said so candidly, in a speech in New England a few weeks ago.

chancellor of the exchequer in the British labor government.

Demand originally imposed by Snowden had precipitated a deadlock, stopping the work of the party. After a two-hour session the financial committee adjourned until Wednesday.

In plain language the British demanded the following:

1. Revision of the Young plan so that England will get a bigger share of Germany's reparation payments.

2. Reapportionment of the allotment of unconditional payments by Germany so that Britain will get a share of such payments that had been allocated for France.

3. Payment by Germany in goods should cease so that the European markets outside of Germany should not be glutted with German-made goods.

Dry Weather Is Hurting Crops

Continued Drought Is Having Serious Effect On State Crops, Reported

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 12.—Continued dry weather, general throughout the state, has affected adversely all of the major farm crop prospects, the federal-state crop reporting service today announced. The forecasts are based on reports gathered as of August 1.

Although the drought has affected the growing corn the total crop expected was estimated at 55,108,000 bushels, a decrease of 5,000,000 over the July 1 forecast and an increase of 5,000,000 bushels over the 1928 crop.

The outlook for the potato crop was characterized as "not very promising." In some sections the early potato crop was almost a complete failure and the later production is being retarded by the need of rain. The entire crop was estimated at 26,917,000 bushels as compared with 31,985,000 last year.

Total production of winter wheat, most of which has now been threshed, was estimated at 20,268,000 bushels. The yield is an increase of 3,000,000 bushels over 1928 but below early forecasts.

"Condition of all fruits, except grapes, declined during the month," the report said. The expected crop of both apples and peaches will be below former forecasts made for the entire state. The prospect in the Cumberland-Shenandoah region has been little affected by the adverse conditions in other sections.

Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

This man Edison can do other things besides invent. Asking questions seems to be one of his strong points. One of the questions he recently asked was "what would you do if you inherited $1,000,000.00 during the year?"

Well what would you do? As far as most of us are concerned a million dollars is just a matter of getting down laughs after the one. Getting a million cold dollars, sometimes known as smacks, plunks or what have you, handed to you in one bunch would be one way of enjoying a pleasant afternoon.

Spending it might be another thing. For my own part if any cares to hand me a million, the first thing I would do would be to call the steamship fellows and ask them what the fare was to the Island of Pago Pago. Ever since

I saw Jeanne Eagels in "Rain" I've had a yen to see that island and see if the weather is that wet.

This thing of getting air minded seems to be invading the field of automobiles. A lad drove down Washington street yesterday afternoon with his car fitted up like an airplane. Cockpit, allers, and all the rest of it. He had an Illinois license and perhaps was fitted to take to the air when the gun men in Chicago started war.

The folks were out yesterday. All of them it seemed. Getting down Washington street was a matter of waits for every street car had a string of cars back of it that looked as though all the cars in Western Pennsylvania were trying to get through New Castle.

One of the observers for this column had an experience on the Ellwood Road Saturday night that might have been serious. The car in front of him went over a bank and upset. Business then of pulling out the occupants by the heels. Comes another car along and pulling over to the side of the bank threw its headlights down to aid the work. As the last man was pulled out of the overturned car, the relief car let go and plunged down the bank, smack dab into the first car.

Bessemer gets the center of attraction this evening. The Boosters' Club out there are sponsoring the formal opening of the new link between the boro and the Ohio line and they want the world to know they are proud of their new concrete ribbon. Going out?

Latest reports from the police station are to the effect that the place is still torn up and the painters are progressing by degrees. Harry Phillips and John Swan figure they will be through there in a day or so and the probabilities are that the fines will go up. It should be worth a little more to get fined in a nicely painted office.

The season is about over for the "having a nice time with you were here" folks. The run of post cards seems to be about over and for the next six months most of us will have to listen to friends who describe fish a yard long, and puts seven feet long that they sunk on rolling greens.

Hope you're not forgetting the dedication of the Jordan Game Farm on August 24th. Plenty of roast ox and a big time for everybody.

Youth Exhausted By Long Hike To Wilksburg, Pa.

(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 12.—Ill and exhausted from lack of food on his long hike from Long Island, toward his home in Wilksburg, Arthur Dehappert, 19, lay on his cot in Westmoreland hospital today.

A motorist driving along the William Penn highways saw a silent form at the side of the road and, investigating, found the youth in an exhausted condition.

At the hospital Dehappert explained that he had gone to Long Island to seek work. When he failed to find a job, he said, he started back, alone and without money. For three days he had tramped, hungry and weak, but determined to return to Wilksburg without assistance.

Pennsylvania Is First In Number Of Tobacco Plants

Most Snuff And Chewing And

Out In State, Figures Show

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12.—Pennsylvania ranks first among the states of the country in the number of establishments engaged primarily in the manufacture of chewing and smoking tobacco and snuff, the United States department of commerce announces following the publication of the biennial census of 1928.

During the year reported in the census, 1927, a total of 159 factories throughout the country was engaged in the manufacture of chewing and smoking tobacco and snuff. Of this number, 28 were located in Pennsylvania. Ohio reported the next greatest number of such establishments with 25 located in the state during 1927. Kentucky was third with 19, New York fourth with 18, and Tennessee fifth with 10, the census reveals.

An average of 13,125 persons were employed in the establishments of this class located throughout the country during 1927, with a total payroll of $10,661,420 reported for the year. The total value of products from these factories was $99,246,677 for the year reported, according to the department of commerce report.

New Castle People See Seven Icebergs On Atlantic Journey

To see seven icebergs in the Atlantic on their way across to visit the British Isles and to halt for a half night in the darkness due to a treacherous block of ice which lay in the path of the Regina, was the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCullough of Richelleu avenue who have but recently returned home from their European tour.

The local people left Montreal on June 1 and arrived at Belfast, Ireland, on June 8. In this country they visited Mr. McCullough's parents and toured the entire isle for a month. This was followed by a trip to Liverpool, England, and later to London where they toured this city for more than a week visiting many points of historical and current interest.

While in London they met Joseph H. Blanning of this city, now a student at Annapolis, who was on tour of England.

This was followed by a jaunt across the channel and then a return to the United States on the S. S. Majestic. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chipman of Cumberland avenue arrived on this boat.

Mr. and Mrs. McCullough visited relatives in New York state for a week and then returned home to this city.

Camp Meeting To Open August 13

The 29th annual opening of the Wesleyan Methodist camp meetings at Stoneboro will be held Tuesday, August 13.

The camp is splendidly equipped. The 186 rooms and 23 tents owned by the association will give ample conveniences for housing the delegates who will attend the meetings this year.

Last year more than 1,000 regular campers were on the grounds. Each year a large delegation comes from New Castle.

The following are the officers of the Camp Meeting association:

P. B. Campbell, president, New Castle; Fleming Perrine, secretary and treasurer, Sandy Lake, Pa.; Mary E. McLeister, superintendent of children's meeting, New Castle; Charles Ries, superintendent of grounds, Akron, O.

Vice presidents are as follows: R. J. Smeizer, Falconer, N. Y.; D. B. Hampe of Akron, O.; W. H. Marvin, Sandy Lake, Pa., and Charles Ries, Akron, O.

These are prosperous times. Think how much salt pork and corn meal the Southern textile worker can buy with his $14.65 a week.

To Select Students For College Aid

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 12.—Selection of worthy young men and women who will be benefited financially by the Wright fund left by the late Senator G. W. Wright for the education of the type of young Americans named above will be made soon for the 1929 and 30 college year. It is made known today.

The fund, which amounts to approximately half a million, was left in trust. Three trustees were named in the will of the late senator who have charge of the selection of young men and women who are given financial assistance in college or normal course. On the board are Judge J. A. McLaughry of Mercer county courts, R. C. Kerr of Mercer, president of the Farmers & Mechanics National bank, and Alexander Wright of New Castle.

The number of applicants will total the usual large field of states. Mr. Kerr, who is secretary of the board, states each year the number of applicants exceeds the possible selection by a large total. ## Short Route To Johnstown Soon

HARRISBURG, August 12.—The Wheeler-Flynn allocation of $309,627.99 to Cambria county will be devoted to surfacing 6.25 miles of unimproved roads. Secretary of Highways James Lyall Stuart said today. The preferences of the Cambria county commissioners, as approved by Secretary Stuart and Governor John S. Fisher, follows:

Traffic route No. 403, from Johnstown to Indiana county line, 3.22 miles.

Traffic route No. 53, from Reade township line south toward Ashville, 3.03 miles.

The first preference will complete the gap of unimproved road on traffic route No. 403, between Johnstown and Indiana county line, and will give the Flood City a new improved outlet to the William Penn highway via Cranmer. With the completion of this project Johnstown will have a new improved connection with Indiana, Kittanning, Butler and New Castle, via traffic route No. 403, the William Penn highway to Arnegh; traffic

A BRAVE DOCTOR
They tell a story of a Chelsea Village M. D. who made a pile of dough maintaining healthy livers among the plain-but-serviceable brand of humanity to be found in that portion of town. His wife became bitten by the Society Bacillus, and in order to cure her, the Doc moved across to Park avenue.

He was called in one morning to prescribe for an Allison Skipmore Duchess who was in the habit of cutting everything in sight and then calling in a masseuse to beat her back into shape again.

The Doc took one look at her pasty face, poked her in the belt buckle, snorted and picked up his satchel.

"You don't require a doctor; you need a physical director," he said.

"Will you prescribe a regimen?" moaned the Overstuffed One.

"Sure I will," replied the Doc. "Push yourself away from the table twice a day morning and evening for six months."

"What do I owe you, sir?" gasped the outraged dame.

"An apology, madam, for taking up my valuable time," snorted the Pride of Chelsea Village, as he disappeared through the Louis Quince portiers.

Earnest Meuser, aged about 21, a former resident of Youngstown, Ohio, is fast becoming an expert aviator. Recently at the Bradford Flying field on the Youngstown road, the youth took a plane up by himself and made a very splendid flight.

Meuser did not have much instruction, which makes the feat all the more daring. He handled the plane well the first time that he left Mother Earth by himself. He is a mechanic for Bradford, and a good one. He is a very apt pupil. He has been at the Bradford field for about two months.

Roy Bradford is making extensive improvements to his New Castle Airport, and hopes to have a very fine field and stand when finished. He is going to put in a new barbecue stand in the very near future, and has only recently taken over the Firestone Tires and Batteries for distribution.

Laud State Plan In Fixing Rates Of Hospital Pay

Leaders In Social Work Agree Pennsylvania
System Is Best

HARRISBURG, Aug. 12.—Pennsylvania's system of rating hospital patients as free, part pay, or full pay was recognized at a recent convention as one of the best solutions of the problem confronting all hospitals in such matters, and applicable particularly to the patients of moderate means. The American Hospital Association combined with the International Hospital Congress put its stamp of approval on this state's system at its convention in Atlantic City.

The system used in the state aided hospitals was outlined to the convention by Mrs. Martha J. Meyer, director of the bureau of assistance, who was delegated by Mrs. E. S. McCauley, State Secretary of Welfare, to represent the department.

According to the system employed in this Commonwealth, the social service worker in the hospital discovers through careful interviews the extent of the patient's income, whether the income will continue throughout the illness, how many are dependent upon it, and that reductions, if any, will be necessary in expenses during the illness. Emphasis at the convention was placed upon the qualifications of the social worker for such interviews with patients. It was agreed that the most delicate part of the system was centered in this person whose duty it is, without offending the patient, to discover necessary information and make tactful recommendations.

Ask Information
Pennsylvania's system was found to be in line with the best suggestions of the delegates at the convention and, in fact, many of the 1200 delegates from over forty foreign countries and the United States have written to the State Welfare Department asking for literature containing outlines of the method of procedure. The Department of Welfare requires all hospitals receiving State aid to establish a credit system which shall be administered on a social service basis with tactful workers who have had experience in dealing with family problems.

Recognizing that for many years the very rich and the very poor were well cared for in hospitals, attention has been turned to the great middle class which is comprised of persons of moderate means, whose incomes may vary with the circumstances of illnesses.

A number of hospitals throughout the country are employing systems for the care of patients of moderate means included in which is the plan of an organization providing for hospital insurance. This plan permits a person to pay $18 a year which assures him or her of fourteen days' care in a hospital in a private room for $12 a year premium, a patient may have two weeks care in a semi-private room.

"Rabbit Fever" Is Explained

Doctors Warn Citizens Against "Rabbit Fever"; Hunters Especially Warned

DISEASE KNOWN AS "TULARAEMIA"

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH,
International News Service Staff
WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The human race, already afflicted with most of the known diseases and a great many that have not so far been diagnosed, is now threatened with "rabbit fever."

Preliminary investigations by the U. S. Public Health service of this disease, scientifically known as tularaemia, disclosed that it may be communicated to human by contact with infected animals. It was disclosed today.

"Rabbit fever," the germ of which was isolated by Dr. Edward Francis, public health scientist, also afflicts certain wild life, chiefly birds. The quail is particularly susceptible to tularaemia. Dr. Francis recently was a patient at the Naval hospital where he was under treatment for "undulant fever," a disease which he had investigated. He had a part in the isolation of that germ.

Hunters are warned to beware of careless rabbits or birds. Especially in the case of the rabbit the existence of this strange disease may easily be detected. An official of the health service said that a rabbit which can be killed with a club or which makes little effort to escape on the approach of a hunter or dog almost certainly is afflicted with tularaemia.

The disease is communicable by handling an infected animal prior to cooking. Since the germ is destroyed by comparatively low temperatures no ill-effects following eating of a diseased rabbit or bird, according to experts.

Persons preparing rabbits for cooking were told to use rubber gloves as a precaution against tularaemia.

While the disease is not extremely fatal it is attended by a serious prostrating effect. For many months the victim may be incapacitated and without ability or inclination to do ordinary work.

Two Cases Reported
A statement issued by the public health service said that tularaemia infection is "the causative factor in epidemics that affects native species of game birds, as well as rabbits, and the matter appears to be one of importance because of the danger of human infection."

Tularaemia is transmitted to the rabbit by a bite of a tick, according to the health service.

Two human cases of tularaemia have been reported, one in North Carolina and the other in Tennessee, the statement said. "The indicated source of infection was the quail. Although the studies are not yet completed it is of importance that quail, as a possibility of a source of infection for tularaemia, be borne in mind."

Many To Attend Road Ceremony

Bessemer-State Line Road Officially Opened At 7:30 O'Clock This Evening

Indications are that a large number of visitors and residents of the community and district will attend the formal opening of the Bessemer boro and Ohio state line road which is to take place this evening at 7:30 o'clock, daylight savings time and which is being sponsored by the Booster Club of Bessemer.

Extensive plans have been made by the committee headed by Roy Wallis and composed of C. D. Montgomery, J. A. Johnson, Charles Weitz and Myron Smith for the affair.

The parade of cars which will be led by the community band will leave the Bessemer square at 7:30 and at the junction of the boro line and the start of the new highway, the speaking program will take place.

Senator George T. Weingartner of New Castle will make the principal address at the official ceremonies which will take place.

The road, as most persons know, is an important highway link for this county, and a large number are expected to attend the affair.

But why does a resort always wait until you are there to have its "unusual" weather.

Boys Begin Last Period At Camp

The Indians showed their thorough knowledge of Scouting Saturday evening at Camp Phillips when they won the Treasure Hunt in competition with the other four stockades. They came in first by a full hour ahead of the others. Harold Aggas was the leader of the group, which included Bob Rogers, Bernard Trushel, Francis Davis, Dave Sleppy, Jack Zeigler, Bob Dewey, Henry Dewey, George Marquis.

The baseball championship for the week was captured by the Dana Boones who are now entitled to a game with the Staff, which will take place on Monday afternoon.

The Camp Highest honor, the new achievement emblem, earned by four scouts this week and was awarded to the boys on Saturday. Scouts Bill Nunn, Nat Book, Bill Woodworth, Bob Dewey were the boys who received the honor. Several boys are still in the running for the emblem and may earn one before the end of the week.

Martin Hut Wins
But Martin captured inspection honors Saturday and Sunday by an exceptionally large score. The hut is in the Davey Crockett Stockade of which Earl Timblin is the leader. Boys in the hut are Joe Todd, John Young, Bill Lee, Virgil Saxton. The color guards for Saturday were Dave Sleppy, Bob Dewey, Jim Donnelly. For Sunday, Tom Hawkins, Frank Elbertson and Bud Gordon.

Snook Counsel And Prosecution Attorney Clash

Sharp Words Exchanged By Lawyers During Course Of Trial This Morning

SEIDEL SAYS THREAT
MADE TO "RUIN HIM"

Takes Stand In Attempt To Show Confession Of Snook Was Obtained Under Duress

(International News Service)
COURTROOM, COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 12.—Sharp words were exchanged today when Judge John F. Seidel, one of the attorneys defending Dr. James H. Snook for the murder of Theora Hix, underwent a severe cross-examination at the hands of Prosecutor John J. Chester, Jr. Seidel took the stand and testified that the signed confession of Snook, later repudiated, was obtained under duress.

"You were ordered out of my office when you tried to block Snook from confessing, weren't you?" asked Chester.

"Yes," replied Seidel.
"You got out didn't you?"
"Yes, but you didn't put me out. You couldn't do it."

Seidel, a florid-faced, stockily-built man of 50, was burning with indignation.

Admits Snook Lied
Under further question, Prosecutor Chester forced Seidel to admit he had said to newspapermen while Snook was on the verge of his confession: "If Snook killed this woman, I helped him do it."

Q. (By Chester.) Have you changed your mind about that, Judge Seidel?
A. Yes, I did when Dr. Snook told me with his own lips that he killed the girl.

Q. He lied to you in the first place?
A. Yes.

Q. You testified you knew Snook for 20 years. Is that a true fact?
A. Yes.

Q. When you came to headquarters didn't you turn to one of the detectives and say:
"Which one is Dr. Snook?"
A. Emphatically No.

Q. And didn't you go to Snook and say: "I am Judge Seidel; some of your friends sent me to you to represent you."
A. I did not.

A direct examination Seidel testified Prosecutor Chester threatened to "ruin him" if he failed to induce Snook to confess. He said abusive methods were used in exacting the confession from Snook.

Saw Change In Snook
Dr. Frederick Stanton, a Columbus physician, testified that Snook's reputation for peace and quiet was "good." He treated Snook at different times. Asked if he had noticed any change in Snook in the last few months, Dr. Stanton said:

"He had more colds than he used to have and his manikins were not so good."

Defense Attorney E. O. Ricketts took the stand and told of having visited Snook at the county jail shortly after he confessed the killing of Miss Hix. Snook had been grilling for hours.

"Snook was incoherent," Ricketts testified. "He kept repeating what Detective Phillips said he had done. I told Snook to have a good night's sleep and I would interview him in the morning."

Ricketts testified there were marks on both of Snook's cheeks—"as if he had been hit by the flat of somebody's hands."

May Not Call Aliens
Defense attorneys indicated during a recess they may abandon their intention of summoning aliens to the stand to bolster their contention Snook was "insane" when he killed Miss Hix.

"We have practically made up our minds not to call the aliens," Ricketts said.

If this plan is adhered to, the trial will be shortened by several days. It was understood the defense has less than a dozen more witnesses to call. Dr. Snook seemed dejected in court today. He sat looking at the floor, a gloom expression on his face. Something appeared to be worrying him. Jail attaches said he was dispirited over the Sabbath. He was visited in his cell Sunday night by his wife, Mrs. Helen Snook, and his mother, Mrs. Abner Snook.

Arriving in New York from their vain attempt to win back the Davis cup, American star racketeers got busy preparing for the national championship tourney. Snapped aboard ship as they landed are, top left to right: P. E. Dixon, non-playing captain, John Van Ryn, Wilmer Allison, John Hennessey. Below: George Lot, William T. Thelen II, Francis T. Hunter.

George Marquis was high point scorer for Sunday with 230 points, Bob Dewey was second with 210 points and Leonard Trushel with third with 205. All of these boys are members of the Indian tribe.

The Sunday school lessons were taught by Harry Zeigler. The evening Vespers services were in charge of Rev. David Sleppy of the Methodist M. E. church. Rev. Sleppy chose as his theme, "Nature and God." It was a very interesting lesson.

Bill Bayers returned to the camp today for the purpose of completing his tests for the Scout badge. A large number of Scout tests were completed on Saturday. First Class swimming passed by George Thorne, George Marquis, Dave Sleppy, Bob Dewey, Indian Sign Language for first class by Henry Dewey; Nature Study First Class, Henry Dewey; Second Class Signaling by Bob Dewey; Second Class Observation by Frank Elbertson, Bill Boward; Compass by Bill Boward; Observation by Jim Taylor; First Aid by George Marquis. Merit Badges: MacLeslie Plust Aid, Earl Timblin Handicraft, Frank Wesley Handicraft, Norman Wadlinger Fire-building.

There will be plenty of action in camp during the last Scout week with a big program of events for each day which will include a Scout Field Meet, Champions' Game Day, Whoopie Night, Water Carnival and perhaps a visit from Siamese.

"Ten Herbs helped me so much that I induced mother, who is past 70, to use your medicine, as she had about the same health troubles as I," said Mrs. Elizabeth Gott, 23 Roberts St., Pittsburgh, Pa. "We both received the same satisfactory results that everybody who takes Ten Herbs tells about. My appetite was poor, and there seemed to be a heavy lump in my stomach. There also was a constant pain in my stomach. I became nervous and worried over my condition. My liver was inactive, and constipation troubled me. I felt sluggish and sometimes would fall asleep while sewing. My kidneys were so weak I had to arise five or six times a night, and there were severe pains across my back. I did not rest well at night, and my complexion became sallow."

"Ten Herbs improved my appetite and put an end to the heaviness and pains in my stomach. My liver and kidneys were benefited. I no longer had to arise at night, and the pains left my back. In place of that worn-out feeling, I acquired strength and energy. I could sleep well, as my nerves were quiet. My bowels were regulated. My general health became good. Ten Herbs is sold at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, and at all drug and medicine stores throughout this entire section.

Steel Stock Is Soaring Today

U. S. Steel Reaches 225 Today
As Do Many Other Prime Favorites On Big Board

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service, Financial Editor
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—A spectacular jump in United States Steel stock to 225 today, with upturns of 1 to 6 points in a dozen or more of the railroad and industrial favorites on the big board, put new courage into the bulls of Wall Street and helped to win back the losses incurred in last Friday's violent shakeout. Speculators in the financial district were confident of a new melon-cutting for stock corporation stockholders, in one form or another, probably a three-for-one split-up in the shares.

The sore spot in the money market appeared to have healed up and financial leaders were in a happy frame of mind that the market had held up so well under the effect of the marking up of the New York rate to 6 per cent. "The last of the bad news" on Monday market matters was now considered to be out of way and commercial money markets improved rather than handicapped by the cutting of the buying rate on bankers bills to 1-8 per cent.

Orders Swamp Market.
With the opening gong of the new week's market, it was evident that buying demand was sufficient to take up more than the amount of stock offered at anywhere near Saturday's final prices. Bulls wanted stocks and were willing to pay for them. U. S. Steel ran away from the industrial list and mounted nearly 7 1-2 points to 225 3-8, another new peak in the spectacular upward move that has carried this favorite up 60 points since the first week in June.

American Tobacco added 7 points to Saturday's 19-point rise, and sold at 97. American Tel. and Tel., General Electric and other high-priced favorites rose about 5 points on the average and Atchafalca in the rail list, carried through to 230.

Increasing Legislative Harshness Is Cause Behind Prison Outbreaks, Declares Texan, Suggesting Remedy

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Sen. Tom Connally of Texas thinks it might be better to kill habitual criminals outright than to have them cluttering up our penitentiaries, under life sentences.

"That is, he feels this way about it as a matter of cold-blooded logic."

In actual practice, he is an ardent advocate of capital punishment—except in extreme cases.

He takes what he considers a "rational view" of lawbreaking.

Himself an old prospector, he is frank to say that he opposes coddling bad men, deeming it sickish.

Nevertheless, he questions the justice or wisdom of making life sentences the invariable rule for more repetitions of offending—regardless of the offenses' enormity.

However, if such severity is defensible at all, he argues, then he believes that death is equally so—besides being more satisfactory from society's standpoint, and perhaps more merciful to those who transgress society's regulations.

Like most folk, Senator Connally has noticed the generally increasing harshness of America's criminal statutes in recent years—including "life" for "repeaters" in several states—especially in New York, under the Baumes law, probably the most widely advertised example of that type of legislation.

"Indeed," he comments, "we have a provision of the kind in Texas—applicable in certain circumstances."

Violent convict outbreaks at Dannemora and Auburn, with threats of trouble at Sing Sing—attributed largely to multiplication in the number of desperate "lifers" behind the bars—naturally have attracted his attention.

While the lifer problem is not mentioned in connection with the mutiny at Leavenworth, the Texan surmises that the uprising there was mainly in imitation of the Dannemora and Auburn revolts.

Too many lifers!—the senator suspects.

Overcrowding is spoken of as one grave prison evil of today, nearly everywhere—but a steady increase in the proportion of extremely long terms—a constant piling in of new arrivals, with very few departures of time-expired men, to make room for them—necessarily soon congests any prison.

The alternative remedies which suggest themselves to Senator Connally are:

1. A swifter turnover.

2. Elimination of most of the lifers by snuffing them out altogether.

The senator does not recognize a merely long term as an excuse for extermination; a long term still has an end to it, but not a life term—under a law like the Baumes law.

The Lone Star section argues: Having decided as definitely as all that a certain individual is too hopelessly at odds with its entire system ever to be permitted at liberty again, why should society keep him alive at all?—like a wild animal in a cage—maybe for years—an expense, nuisance and a danger.

Assuredly, thinks the senator, it is not because of any regard for the criminal's own preferences in the matter, on the part of those who pass such laws.

No, says the Texan—

It is because public opinion prescribes death as the penalty for but a very few of the worst imaginable offenses—and refuses to recognize a more accumulation of minor misdeeds as equivalent to any single crime in the major category.

He expresses his doubts whether they can properly be bunched together to justify life imprisonment, either.

"Illogical legislation always makes trouble," he concludes.

Boys At Camp Hold Mock Trial

Sciota Street Lads Are Charac-

Last Week

A mock trial that furnished a riot of laughter and amusement for the 21 Sciota street boys who camped at the Y. M. C. A. camp on the Slippery Rock creek last week, occurred during the time they were there.

The characters were as follows:
Judge, Roger Meermans; sheriff,
Merle Hart, and doctor for the insane,
William Thomas.

Charges of flirting with the girls at the Yoho camp were preferred against Sam Bambino and Nick Albert, while Sam Bambino was charged with making eyes at the cook. For investing in a new vocabulary, Sam Albert, Elias

Moses and Samuel Deep were hailed before the bar of justice and tried.
Defending attorneys were Albert Nocera and Sam Bambino and Ralph
John, Louis Bambino and Phillip De-Robbio comprised the jurors.

Motion Court Is Held By Judge

Many Petitions Are Filed With Court At Session
This Morning

Many petitions were presented to the court before Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand this morning.

Petition of the Williams Petroleum Co. by O. L. Williams, president; and
F. J. Conerty, secretary; was received.
Judge Hildebrand handing down a decree ordering a hearing on the petition on September 9th at 9 o'clock.
In the estate of William A. Michael, a petition for sale of property under revoked price, with joinder of Charon
H. Lusk, guardian of Gertrude M. Lusk, Boozell, Rachael Elizabeth Boozell, Boozell, and Bernice Louise Boozell, for the sale of farm property in Washington township at a price of $7,000 was approved by the court. The minor children are to pay interest on the sum received at their share and invested, as long as their grandmother, Mary Gertrude Michael, remain a widow, or until her death.

Final Decree
A final decree of confirmation, in the petition for the sale of real estate of Maryett Hanna, late of New Wilmington, deceased, to Velma S. Warnock, in the sum of $2,000 was handled by the court.
Petition of Goldie McKissick Hillard, mother of Harry L. McKissick and Martin McKissick, minor children of the late Harry McKissick, a deceased World War Veteran, was approved and the Lawrence Savings and Trust Co. was designated as guardian.
Each receives the sum of $15 monthly from the U. S. government as their share in the estate of the father.
Petition for an amendment to the bill in equity in the case of Mae Bruce Houk vs John E. Houk, was accepted and the defendant was ordered to answer and designate a place of residence where service on the bill could be rendered, or else forfeit interest in farm property.

The plaintiff avers that she is part owner of a farm of fifty acres, her widowed mother owning the other half, and was operated by the plaintiff and defendant as a joint venture.
That after a bill of complaint, that John Houk attempted to convey his half-interest in the venture to his brother William Orrie Houk, the latter having knowledge that John E.
Houk had deserted the plaintiff. It is complained that the deed was executed in an attempt to conceal assets from his wife, Mae Bruce Houk.

Stay Execution
In the case of the First National Bank of New Wilmington vs Harry
V. Kuhn and Maude E. Kuhn, a petition to stay execution of a mortgage and an order of court asking that judgment be entered against the defendants in the sum of $16,230, was asked by John M. Bevan and Joseph R. McPate, assignees.

The assignees claim that the property seized from the defendants, is well rented and that by careful administration of the assets, it is possible to liquidate the estate and pay all creditors entering claim. The property in question consists of buildings with lots facing on Mercer street and Vine street in New Wilmington.
A rule was directed by the court on the First National Bank of New Wilmington to show cause why the petition should not be granted, returnable on Monday, August 26th at 8:10 a. m.

by college officers. The four-year other fundamental courses including

Delegates Leave After Conference

NEW WILMINGTON, August 12.—
Four hundred delegates left the college town Saturday, after spending a week attending the sessions of one of the most successful ever held here. Dr. E. Anderson of Philadelphia officially closed the conference with the close of his sermon yesterday evening.

Enthusiasm concerning the remarkable success of the conference services this year was openly shown by the leaders. Featuring the instructions and spiritual influence of which the leaders are proud were the interesting talks of Dr. Wade C.
Smith, the "experiment on life in a spiritual laboratory" hour conducted by Rev. Cliff Strangeway, the strong opening sermon of Dr. Robert A. Pollock, a missionary parent directed by Mrs. E. C. McKune, had sermons and instruction of Rev. James Cummings, Dr. Frank McManahan, and Dr. Joseph Maxwell.

Besides the spiritual success of the conference, word from the younger delegates also indicates that the week was also a social success. Miss Katharine McClure and Mr. Virgil Barnes were the social directors. Manager
Sam Weir and Assistant Manager Herman King may well be cited for the smoothness with which all arrangements progressed.

A special train at 9:30 this morning took most of the delegates out of the college town. Including part time delegates the total attendance at the services was estimated at 700.

Boro Council Lets New Bridge Bid

NEW WILMINGTON, Aug. 12.—Action at the meeting of the borough council of New Wilmington consisted of the letting of a contract for a single span bridge on High street to the company of Victor Minter. Work on this project will be started at once.

The governing body of the college town, also ordered the sanitary engineer for the new disposal plant to arrange the chlorination system for the completion and full operation of the plant. Citation was given of the fact that not only was the new plant completely sanitary but it was rapidly developing an exterior beauty from the planting and gardening which has been done.

The series of meetings composing the post-conference of the New Wilmington missionary conference ends with the general meeting here this evening. This aftermath of the services held throughout last week was attended by approximately 80 of the United Presbyterian missionaries and was innovated to take the place of the usual pre-conference.

Designed for navy experimental and training purposes the first all-metal airship ever constructed is ready for delivery at Detroit. Photos show the interior, front view of the control cabin of the dirigible, known as the ZMC-2, and a side view. It has a capacity of 200,000 cubic feet.

The view below shows men working on the ethane gas, formerly known as blau gas, that is used in fueling the Graf Zeppelin as she prepares at Lakehurst for her round-the-world tour. Each bottle contains 165 cubic feet of fuel. A small balloon is filled with the ethane gas, as shown above, then brought into the hangar and the gas pumped into the Zep's cells. ## Away on Tour Like Ghost in the Night

Her great gray body shimmering in the flood lights of the Navy field at Lakehurst, N. J., the Graf Zeppelin slips over the heads of the thousands who came to bid her "Bon voyage," at the start of her history-making world tour. Her motors humming smoothly, the "Queen of the Air" nosed her way northward on the great circle route which, with favorable winds, will bring her over London in fifty hours. Dr. Hugo Eckener, her commander, plans to be back at Lakehurst early in September, after stopping at Friedrichshafen, Tokio, and Los Angeles.

TRI-MOTORED PLANE CRASHES WITH 10 PASSENGERS

Here is the wreckage of the tri-motored passenger air liner on the Los Angeles to San Diego line after it crashed in the Los Angeles river bed shortly after taking off on its daily voyage, injuring its load of 10 people. Steel structure of the passenger cabin saved the occupants from instant death when the big plane flopped over on its back as it hit, wrecked beyond repair.

Gangland Out For Funeral Of Monastero

Thousands Of Flowers Sent From Members Of His
"Mob" As Leader
Is Buried

MANY AUTOMOBILES IN FUNERAL LINE

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 12—Thousands of roses and carnations and every sort of a flower that grows were withering today, piled high bank on bank around a mound of fresh turned earth in Northside cemetery that held the remains of Steve Monastero.

Six automobile loads of the blossoms accompanied the body of the slain overlord of Pittsburgh Mafia as it rode in solemn procession yesterday from his home on Perryview avenue to Queen of Heaven church. And there were almost as many mourners—if they were "mourners"—who rode in the procession, who crowded around the church, who watched the man who had terrorized Little Italy for four years lowered to his grave.

Index Cards

Swarthy henchmen of "Big Steve" arranged the flowers in the cars and carefully indexed each card of the donors. For it was more than a question of sending remembrance. The remnants of the Monastero gang were fighting for their existence against a determined police war of extermination. And they were fighting against new leaders who, emboldened by the death of the gangland "king", were threatening to take his place.

So every card was carefully noted by the silent, grim faced members of the Mafia ring. Those cards were also notices that the donors will still "string along".

There were more than 125 automobiles in the cortege, the finest machines that money can buy, and perhaps one of the machines contained the men who waited patiently until Monastero was momentarily unprotected and then riddled him with shotgun slugs, a week ago today.

Police In Line
Blue uniformed police moved among the thousands who witnessed the funeral. Plain clothes men were there from detective headquarters, and dozens of motorcycle squad men, but if they gained any clue to the mysteries of the deadly Sicilian organization that Monastero headed they were silent about it.

Sam Monastero was there, too. He had stood by his brother's side when the fatal volley of slugs was fired, as they stood in front of St. Francis' hospital where they had gone to visit a sick henchman. Sam was released Friday on $5,000 bail as a material witness, which may have made him a "marked man". But if he feared, he gave no indication as he watched dry eyed while they buried "Big Steve".

For the time of the funeral, at least, there would be a truce.

The immediate family of the slain gangster gathered around the grave, the center of a crowd of milling thousands.

There were a few tears and as the long string of machines began the return home the overcast skies began to pour out a stinging rain that beat the petals from the freshly banked flowers.

Candidates Have One More Day For Filing Petitions

First Registration Day In City Will Occur On August 29,
Commissioners Advise

With but one more day remaining in which candidates for the various offices in Lawrence county may file their petitions, the county commissioners are being swamped with an avalanche of papers from office seekers in various sections of the county. A great many more will be filed tomorrow.

The last registration day in the city will occur on August 29th, the second on September 3 and the last on September 14, just three days prior to the fall primary.

Many changes in party affiliation will be made by local voters, many Republicans having registered as Democrats at the primaries last year in order to vote for the Democratic electors for president.

August 19 is the last day on which objections to petitions may be filed, while August 20 at 4 p. m. is the last day on which petitions for candidacy may be withdrawn.

September 4 is the last day on which voters may be assessed in order to be registered to vote at the primaries.

The Story Of The World War
85—Rumania Attacks Austria

ON ENTERING THE WORLD WAR (AUG. 27, 1916), RUMANIA AT ONCE SOUGHT TO SEIZE THE AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN PROVINCE OF TRANSYLVANIA, WHICH SHE LONG HAD CLAIMED. ON THE NIGHT OF AUGUST 27, RUMANIAN ARMIES POURED NORTHWARD THROUGH THE MOUNTAIN PASSES, DRIVING BACK THE SMALL AUSTRIAN FORCES THAT OPPOSED THEM.

THE RUMANIANS HOPED TO EFFECT A JUNCTION WITH BRUSILOV'S RUSSIAN ARMY, WHICH HAD BEEN WINNING SUCCESSES IN THE BUKOWINA, AND TOGETHER MAKE A GREAT DRIVE AGAINST THE AUSTRIANS. HOWEVER, BRUSILOV'S ADVANCE WAS CHECKED BY A GERMAN ARMY SENT TO AID THE AUSTRIANS, AND THE HOPE OF A COMBINED RUSS-RUMANIAN OFFENSIVE FADED.

BEFORE RUMANIA ENTERED THE WAR, THE CENTRAL POWERS HAD LOOKED TO HER FOR MUCHLY NEEDED SUPPLIES OF OIL AND GRAIN. WHEN RUMANIA JOINED THE ALLIES, GERMANY FOUND HERSELF CUT OFF FROM THIS SOURCE OF SUPPLY.

THESE COMMODITIES WERE OF SUCH VITAL IMPORTANCE TO THE GERMANS THAT, EVEN THOUGH AT THE MOMENT THEY NEEDED ALL THEIR STRENGTH TO OPPOSE THE BRITISH AND FRENCH ON THE WESTERN FRONT, THEY SENT TWO OF THEIR BEST GENERALS, MACKENSEN AND FALKENHAYN, WITH TROOPS TO IMMEDIATELY UNDERTAKE THE CONQUEST OF RUMANIA.

TOMORROW—MACKENSEN AND FALKENHAYN INVADE RUMANIA.

Home Boys To Box Joe Midway of New Castle who is improving with steady work will take on Joe Juhasz, a mauler from Beaver Falls.

Sig Keppen, manager of the Beaver Falls middleweight believes a victory over Midway would set Juhasz pretty.

Tom Farrow, New Castle and Ernest Sledge, Butler, 165 pound colored boys will open the show at nine o'clock fast time.

Jackie Dugan and Jackie Dugan, 130-pounders meet in a bout scheduled for 10 rounds.

Kosky, formerly of California now of Chicago and Dugan, Louisville, loosened up at Jimmy Dime's gymnasium yesterday. They are in splendid fighting condition and according to the pilots of each fighter, their proteges are hopeful of producing a knock-out.

Kosky is a southpaw. Dugan has an orthodox style. The sailor has been dropping boys like Eddie Shea, Har. / Forbes, et. al. for counts but Dugan says he doesn't expect to hit the floor—at least not tonight.

Confident Battlers "I figure that I can keep this southpaw backing up and if I can he's not going to get a whack at my chin. However, one of my rights may find his 'button.' I've defeated boys as good as he and expect to repeat," said the Irishman.

"If I drop Dugan the fans will see then why Tony Herrera refuses to meet me. I'm going to tear into Jackie as soon as the bell rings as I want to get back to Chicago. If I can land on his chin I have a chance of catching a midnight train," said Kosky.

Mighty peppery statements from both but to be frank they're a pair of 'cocky, confident youngsters who scarcely know what reverse means. They've been rushing ahead fast since they assumed a status as pro pugilists and they're ready to flash their stuff.

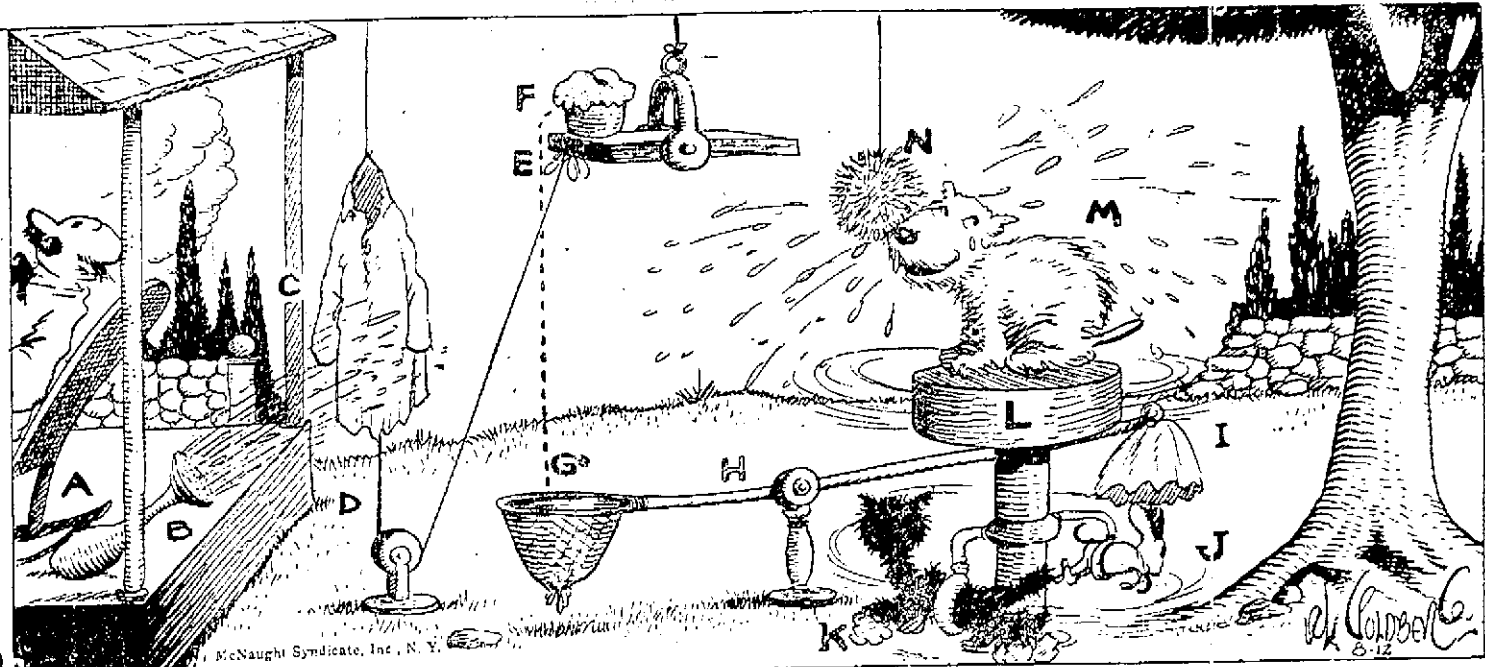

Talking to Dugan yesterday concerning his fight with Joey Goodman who is well known here the Irish lad said he won over Goodman and took the decision from Rock Island Mike Dundee. He fought Dundee in June.

Heavyweight Class Kosky walloped Baby Sal and Ignacio Fernandez at Los Angeles, bumped Harry Forbes down six times, followed it up by beating Johnny O'Keefe and Jack LaBarre at Chicago. He's pining for a chance to make his punch count so he can chase Herrera.

Harold Scarney, Youngstown heavyweight has a rather difficult task before him tonight as Frank Florian, the boy beauty of Cleveland heavyweights is sure a rugged fighter. Only a week ago he fought Young

Italians Look Like Winners In County Circuit

Italians Lead Lawrence County League For Second Half Of Season

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Edie Conner, prominent round official of the Lawrence County League, comes forward today with the standing of the teams in the league for the second-half of the season.

The Italians are leading the circuit by eight victories and one setback. The Wampum team with four victories and three defeats stand closest to the Italians. Bessemer is plugging along with five victories and four defeats.

Really it looks as if the Italians was the works this half. If the Italians come through and there is every indication that just such a thing is going to happen, they will more than likely meet the Pennsylvanian R. R. team for the Lawrence County League pennant. The P. R. R. gang up and won the first-half of the race like nobodies business.

"Must Meet Hillsville" And by the way, manager McCloskey is asked to play off that game with Hillsville that is hanging fire from the first-half and thereby win the pennant for the first-half without any question. The Pennsylvanian team will be forced by the Commissioners to set a date for this game if they fail to ignore the summons any longer.

Hate to do this, but rules is rules. According to Mr. Conner's very diligent figuring the standing of the league up until Friday August 9th should read something like this:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Italians	8	1	.888
Wampum	4	3	.571
Bessemer	5	4	.555
Pennsylv.	2	6	.266
Slovaks	2	6	.250
Hillsville	1	3	.250

Post Office Team Defeats Princeton

Ed Rehili took his Post Office baseball team to Princeton on Saturday afternoon, and brought back a 6 to 5, victory over the former City-County League team. During the course of the afternoon Rehili discovered a very fine pitcher, Mr. Lutz to be exact.

Lutz held the Princeton team at his mercy all during the game. He gave but five measly bingles, and had thirteen strikeouts to his credit. Lutz had good control, and walked but two men.

The Post Office had ten hits off Harlan, with Rehili, Roberts and Hay having doubles. The Post Office boys won the game in the ninth frame by scoring two runs.

Max Schmeling Is Out In Cold

(International News Service) NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, who only a few weeks ago was riding on the crest of the fistic wave, seemed definitely out in the "cold" today.

For the New York state athletic commission, in a formal statement yesterday, applauded the recent action of the Madison Square Garden Corporation in accepting its suggestion to match Jack Sharkey with some one other than the German and declared that the "commission and the boxing fans of New York can get along without Schmeling and those who are handling his interests. Not only now but for all time."

This declaration coming on the heels of William F. Carey's statement that Schmeling and his manager, Joe Jacobs, are through forever as far as the Garden is concerned, seemed to place the German heavyweight definitely out of things.

The widest ranging animals on the North American continent are the muskrat and racoon, each being found in 47 states. The former is not found in Florida and the latter shuns Montana.

Gridders Will Go To Camp Shortly

In About Two Weeks New Castle High Gridders Will Go to Training Camp

The New Castle high school football players will soon be hard at work. On Monday, August 26th, Coach Phil Bridenbaugh will be greeted by a healthy energetic group of young football hopefuls.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is anxious to get the camp started. Ralph enjoys the camp as much if not more than the youngsters. He is busily engaged in getting the place in shape for the candidates. If Mr. Gardner is not too busy with camp life he is asked to call The News or get in touch with "Bugs" Walther very shortly.

Carl Kauffman Retains Title

ST. LOUIS, Mo., August 12.—Carl Kauffman, Pittsburgh Golfing sensation, today was owner not only of the national public links golf crown but the tournament medalist honors as well. In a play-off with Milton Sonenart, Toledo and Patsy Tiso, New York, Kauffman's 77 was good enough to win.

Mandell Offered Big Amount By Cleveland Man

Walter Taylor, Cleveland Promoter, Offers Champion $50,000 For Bout

(International News Service) CLEVELAND, Aug. 12.—Sammy Mandell of Chicago, lightweight champion, has been offered $50,000 for a title bout here by Walter Taylor, prominent Cleveland promoter.

Taylor stated today that he wants to pit the Chicago champion against the winner of the Billy Wallace-Tommy Grogan fight here Tuesday—which was taken to mean that the promoter wants Mandell to meet Wallace.

Taylor today was awaiting a reply from Eddie Kane, Mandell's manager, with regard to the $50,000 offer. Kane and Mandell, however, are in the Michigan woods, it was learned. If Mandell refuses to accept Taylor's offer, the champion and Wallace may be paired for a 10-round over-the-weight bout in Paddy Harmon's Chicago Stadium September 6.

Correct this sentence: "I am reluctant to rest," said the sick man, "because I enjoy work, and not because I think the business would suffer in my absence."

Babe Ruth Hits 500 Homers

BABE RUTH

Mr. George Herman Ruth, sometimes referred to as "Babe" Ruth, at Dunn Field Cleveland, yesterday afternoon, achieved a life long ambition, to sock out 500 home runs, or to be exact half a thousand. Against Willis Hudlin, the big Bambino of Swat clouted one over the right-field fence. It was his 30th of the season, and was ticketed Number 500 in his baseball career. Ruth was so tickled with his circuit drive that he departed with twenty-one dollar bills, and retrieved the ball from the young man who finally caught up with the drive somewhere between 96th and Euclid avenue. The Indians upset the Yanks 6 to 5 despite the healthy clout by the $71,000 beauty.

Cubs Widen Gap In Flag Chase

Cubs Defeat Braves As Pirates Take Licking In Brooklyn Sunday

By HENRY MCLEMORE, International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Rogers Hornsby, wandering "bat boy" of baseball, seems at last to have found a place where he can rest his head in peace.

So far this year nothing but the most optimistic reports have come out of Chicago concerning the Radah's department and everybody from Manager Joe McCarthy to the gentleman in Z 22 seem pleased.

And Chicago should be duly thankful that Rogers and the Cubs are clicking so nicely. For if you think that fighting spirit and big bat of Hornsby's aren't due a large share of credit in putting and keeping the Cubs where they are, you haven't been reading the box scores.

Hornsby to Rescue.
Take yesterday's game for example. Big Bob Smith, a real pitcher, had the Cubs all tied and ready for delivery—that is, all save Hornsby. He managed to rap out a homer, a double and a single to account for all of the three Cubs runs which were enough for victory.

Thus the Cubs picked up another game on the Pirates who sadly watched the Robins smack out three homers and a double in the eighth inning for a 5 to 3 win. The flabbergasted gang trailing 3 to 1 with two down when Frederick lifted one over the fence. Herman followed with a double and Hendrick and Blanton came along with successive four base wall-ops.

Lanky Carl Hubbell held the Reds to five hits and his Giant compatriots scored an easy 6 to 3 win. The only other game scheduled for the National.

Both Leaders Beaten.
American League conditions remained the same as both Philadelphia and New York were beaten. Despite Babe Ruth's 30th homer of the year and 500th since entering the major leagues, the Indians turned back the Yanks 6 to 5. Lou Gehrig also collected a home run, his 27th.

Detroit spotted Philadelphia five runs in the first inning and then by the aid of timely hitting by Hartgrave and Johnson went on to win 9 to 3 in the eleventh.
Alphonse Thoms held the Red Sox to five hits and the White Sox won the second of the series, 6 to 3.
The Browns lost to Washington 7 to 5 and dropped from third to fourth place.

Al Singer Making Plenty Of Dough

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Having amassed the small fortune of $475,000 in the short space of eight months, Al Singer, local lightweight idol, promises to be the first home-bred to reach the million dollar mark since the days of Benny Leonard.
Singer expects to add $7,500 to his ring earnings when he meets Casson Charles of France tomorrow night and will net close to $40,000 two weeks hence when he battles Kid Chocolate at the Polo Grounds.

AMERICANISM: Working hard to develop foreign markets, overlooking the fundamental truth that the butcher can't get money to buy bread if the baker doesn't buy wheat.

The Clouting Circus

For a half a dozen seasons Babe Ruth, practically by himself, was baseball's clouting circus. Finally, his team-mate and friend, Lou Gehrig, banged his way into the home run ring and, this year, the national clouting circus has become at least a three-ring affair, crowded with performers of Ruthian proportions!
Ruth has been making gallant efforts to keep his place at the head of this great home run show, but Father Time, with his ill that best athletic age, has been keeping Babe out of the game so much of late that it looks now as though 1929 will mark the start of the Ruthian eclipse.

Meanwhile, Chuck Klein of the Phillies, Mel Ott of the Giants, Hack Wilson of the Cubs, Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, Al Simmons of the Athletics and a half dozen others are preempting those home run rings in the diamond's clouting circus which Ruth bestrode like a Colossus for so many seasons.

The Babe himself is not whimpering. He doesn't figure anywhere near through, though peeved over the leg troubles which tend to bench him more and more, while younger men slug their ways to the fore.
Fondom, almost as a unit, hates now to even think of Ruth's passing for, no matter what the competition, the Babe has been baseball's big feature so long that he has become its most interesting institution. He is the Jack Dempsey of the national game—with all his eccentricities and troubles of the past, the most popular player who ever made great crowds roar! Why even in batting practice his trips to the plate are watched as though such incidents were to become part of the official records.

But on they come—Ruth's successors! With salves of homers that must burst on Babe's huge ears like ocean waves lashing his dug-out St. Helena! Will the Kleins, the Ott, the Gehrigs and others surpass Ruth's extraordinary records? That is doubted, but some of them may come close to 60-for-a-season before home run epidemics abate.

Nor should Ruth be counted out now, as many experts erroneously attempted for a few years past. Because, as long as the Babe can stand at the plate, he will be liable to slam out homers. And he should be able to do that, between layoffs, for a couple of more seasons at least.

While Ruth is able to take even occasional part in the clouting circus he will remain its most dramatic actor and factor. His name has been, is and will be the inspiration of all homers, whether they be hit this year, next or a century from now.

Wherever hard hitting draws the fans the Babe will always be remembered as the Barnum and Bailey of the home run circus. His name already marks an era in baseball. Every one knows we're in "The Age of Ruth."

Home Runs Win Over Pirates

Deluge Comes In Eighth Frame Of Pittsburgh-Brooklyn Tilt

BROOKLYN, Aug. 12.—Frederick Kendrick and Blanton went in for home runs yesterday and as a result Brooklyn defeated the Pirates five to three. The four ply swats came in the eighth inning when Brooklyn was behind three to one. As the Cubs won again it looks as though the Pittsburghers are being obliterated from the pennant fight.
